The Injunction Against Purchase Denied by Court.

Justice O'Brien of New York Has So Decided This Morning.

Reorganization Committee Will Buy the Property at the Sale.

New York, Aug. 12.—Justice O'Brien in supreme court this morning handed down a decision denying the motion for an injunction to restrain the reorganization committee of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company, from purchasing or acquiring the property of the trust which was advertised to be sold tomorrow. The motion for an injunction was brought by Frederick W. Anness and George N. Fynecheon, who represent $15,000 worth of the stock in the trust. They contend that the purchase by the reorganization committee would perpetuate the trust which had been declared an illegal monopoly by the supreme court of Illinois.

In his decision, Judge O'Brien says: It is claimed that the reorganization is invalid because it involves: 1. The perpetuation of the monopoly of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company, which has been adjudged contrary to public policy. 2. The unlawful use of $15,000 of stock upon the basis of property which is not worth so much as $15,000. 3. The unlawful use of $15,000 of stock to acquire property of an illegal trust.

If the agreement was susceptible of but one construction, and that the one given it by the plaintiffs then, would be forced in the contention that the plan proposed is illegal. It must be remembered, however, that the agreement does not bind the committee to a fixed plan, but a wide discretion is given to do what in their judgment they deem for the best interests of the stockholders and their powers are limited only in particular unnecessary to mention, and which do not constitute a monopoly. It cannot be assumed in advance of the action of the committee that they will perpetuate the monopoly.

The effect of an injunction at the present time would be to prevent the purchase by the committee of property for which, by permission of the United States circuit court, they have been allowed to bid. Whatever other desirable features there may be in the plan, this right conferred on the committee to purchase and which has been sanctioned by the United States court is unquestionable. It is moreover important to the stockholders that the property should not be sacrificed, and if after purchasing, the committee should attempt to reorganize the former monopoly, the courts will not hesitate to again intervene and prevent it.

There are unquestionable features in the agreement which look like investing the committee with power to reacquire the old company. It is true that they are not to purchase all the property, but it is evident that those to be purchased include all the most important distilleries. If this of itself is unquestionable, if the new company or companies to be formed should avoid the methods of the old company, which was directed to stifling competition and creating a monopoly. The question relating to the issue of the preferred stock and the common stock for such a large amount are doubtful legally. Those questions, however, should not be determined on a motion, but should be reserved for the deliberation and consideration which is to be held.

A court of equity should never, in a doubtful case, grant an injunction, especially where it would work irreparable injury. If the committee was prevented from carrying out its bid and securing the properties it would entail serious loss upon all. After they have secured the properties should they attempt to make an illegal monopoly, the courts would afford relief. If they, however, from the legality or illegality of the organization, the question presents itself, whether or not the plaintiffs have the right to withdraw, or whether all of the stockholders are to be bound by the decision of the committee anything more than a power reversible at the pleasure of the depositing stockholders. If it conferred such a power then undoubtedly such power ceased as to plaintiffs upon their demanding the return of their money and securities. The agreement is one to deposit stock and is no doubt a consideration to uphold the deposit by another stockholder, and of course where the company has acted or become obligated to that extent, depositing stockholders are bound.

Here a bid has been made which it is claimed constitutes a contract between the committee and the United States circuit court. Whether it is, strictly speaking, a contract or not, it is an engagement into which the committee entered on the strength of the plaintiffs as well as the other stockholders, and where there is a doubt as to whether or not the United States court would compel the committee to complete it, it would be placing the committee in a hazardous position, and might bring about a clash of jurisdiction for this court to enjoin the committee from purchasing. It has been shown that the committee is solvent and responsible, having more than a million dollars on hand and therefore in a position to respond to any damage that plaintiffs may suffer.

If against their protest the committee then proceed, the plaintiffs if successful would be entitled to a return of their stock or value together with the cash deposited. The committee is at present able to respond to the demand and it cannot be assumed that they will run the risk of personal liability by a failure to retain until the return of their money, a sufficient amount to cover the plaintiffs' claim.

"Motion for a preliminary injunction is accordingly denied, with costs to abide event."

DRAINAGE CANAL.

Report of Experts as to Effect on Lake Levels.

New York, Aug. 12.—Frank W. Hawley has just returned from Chicago, where he has been for the past few weeks examining the drainage canal in an attempt to determine whether the construction of this improvement is likely to lower the water of the great lakes, and whether also it is likely appreciably to divert traffic from the East down the Mississippi. Mr. Hawley has presented his report both to his business associates and to the committee of the produce exchange and other associations, which are about to begin the campaign for the appropriation of $9,000,000 for the Erie canal.

The most important information given by Mr. Hawley was an estimate as to the probable effect on the water level of the diversion of a great body of water through this canal. His report was that there can be no question that an enormous quantity of water will be drawn from Lake Michigan for the filling of this canal. It is estimated that he could obtain water that this volume will be constantly equal to one-third that contained in the Mississippi river above the mouth of the Missouri, or three times that of the Ohio river.

Mr. Hawley's report upon the suggestion that the Chicago ship canal might seriously divert traffic from the Erie was very brief, for it is all a matter of conjecture. In Chicago it is looked upon as certain that a considerable lake commerce will seek the sea through the Mississippi valley as soon as this canal is completed. On the other hand, Mr. Hawley says that in the West it is thought that the canal would bring traffic to the Erie as well as take it away, and that new and distant localities in the West would use the canal as an economical route to the East.

NEGRO'S REVENGE.

Murderous Attack at St. Louis This Morning.

St. Louis, Aug. 13.—A deadly assault was made on the levee this morning. A colored negro fired a fusillade of bullets into a crowd of passengers and members of the crew of the steamer City of St. Louis as they came down the gang plank of the boat just after she landed at the wharf, between 7 and 8 o'clock. The bullets killed two and wounded several. The negro was captured and taken to the city dispensary.

The shooting was the outcome of a fight between the negro, whose name is unknown, and a white man, the captain of the night watch, who was on duty at the time. The negro was enraged at the captain's refusal to let him go, and he fired his revolver. The captain was killed and the negro was captured. GONE TO MILWAUKEE.

Joe Patchen Will Give an Exhibition Mile.

Buffalo, Aug. 12.—Joe Patchen will be shipped to Milwaukee to go an exhibition mile for the purse of $100. Col. Taylor wanted a match between Patchen, John R. Gentry and Robert J. for $1000 a side, the distance flag to be moved within sixty yards of the wire. The match was to be run on Sunday. Joe Patchen had just failed in because after Robert J. had been beaten by Joe Patchen last Thursday, Hamlin refused to act him up a second time.

Instead they offered $2000 for the race between Gentry and Patchen, leaving Robert J. out, but Col. Taylor would not consent, alleging that his horse would be at a disadvantage, as he had just had a bruising race, while Gentry was fresh. Gentry, Patchen and Robert J. will meet at Flood Park the last week in August.

THE BRITANNIA WINNER.
Type, Isle of Wight, Aug. 12.—Bad weather spoiled the racing of the regatta of the Royal Victoria Yacht club, which was held on Sunday. The regatta was a failure, and the race was not run. The regatta was a failure, and the race was not run.

BIKES IN TROUBLE.
Chadron, Neb., Aug. 12.—Edward Clegg, Coleman, Nichols and Henry Carter, British bicycle tourists were arrested Saturday night for fast riding and set morning were fined $1 and costs, a total of $20 each. Although abundantly supplied with money they refused to pay their fines and were committed to hard work on the street. They would not work, however, but sat down under a load of hay. They will claim the protection of the English government.

VALKYRIE'S RACING SPARS.
New York, Aug. 12.—H. Matland, Lord Dunmore's representative, arrived Saturday night for fast riding and set morning were fined $1 and costs, a total of $20 each. They will claim the protection of the English government.

DEMAND.

A. P. A. Board in Omaha Demands Fire and Police Property.

Fix the Time of Transfer for Tomorrow Morning at 10 O'clock.

Omaha Will Probably Have Two Sets of Police-men Shortly.

Omaha, Aug. 12.—No demonstration has been made today in the police row, but plans are all matured for the A. P. A. board to attempt to enforce its authority at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. With this in view the A. P. A. board has served the following notice on the board: "Although you are apprised of the fact, we hereby formally notify you that we have been appointed fire and police commissioners of the city of Omaha, under the law of 1886, and pursuant to that law we have filed our bonds in the sum of $5000 each, and the same has been approved by the city council of said city, according to law, and we have filed our official oaths with the city clerk, and in all respects have duly qualified and are recognized by the city council and also by the court decision rendered by Hon. M. R. Hopkins. Therefore we hereby notify you that having duly qualified and having been recognized, we as before set out, and having assumed the duties of said office, we name Wednesday, Aug. 14, at 10 o'clock a. m., as a suitable time to receive from you the records and property and rooms that properly belong to us as the lawful board of fire and police commissioners."

In the meantime the ex-commissioners will not change their course, but go on reinforcing the city jail and preparing to resist an assault. This is taken as certain evidence that a conflict will result, since the old board will not surrender.

One plan of the A. P. A. board is that the new board will organize a new police force and put new men on every beat in the city. The old officers will be retained, but they will be required to take the new oath and to take them before Police Judge Berka. It is also a plan, who will release them, holding that the new men are real officers instead of being men who are only "hired hands."

As soon as the A. P. A. are released they will bring heavy damage suits against the officers making the arrests, including their bondsmen in the suit. So far as the possession of the records of the fire and police departments, the A. P. A. claim to care nothing. Individual conflicts are likely to occur when the police arrest one another.

A MATCH RACE.

Important Yachting Event Set for Tomorrow.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Aug. 12.—A great deal of interest is taken in yachting circles in the match race which is to be sailed tomorrow under the auspices of the Royal Yacht club sailing committee, between R. S. Palmer's crack schooner Yampa and Mr. Willis' schooner America. The race is the first of the queen's course. This is the course sailed on Wednesday last when the Yampa won the Lord's purse of 200 guineas cup, but was afterwards disqualified on the protest of Mr. Willis on the ground that the Yampa carried nine more hands than the regulations allowed.

This was not denied by Mr. Palmer, the mistake being simply due to his failure to read the rules before agreeing to start in the race. The contest to be decided tomorrow was brought about with the view of allowing the Yampa to definitely decide her superiority over the Amphitrite, and in order to show that the Royal Yacht club fully approved the Yampa's position in the matter, although there was no other course to take but to disqualify the Yampa, for having broken the regulations for yachts sailing in cruising trim.

TERRIBLY FATAL.

Thrashing Machine Accident on Duluth Road.

Minneapolis, Aug. 12.—A Centerville, Minn., special to the Journal says: The explosion of a threshing boiler yesterday afternoon on Antone Lamott's farm west of here killed Joseph Cartier, master of the outfit, and his son Julius. Three other men were injured, two of them fatally. Julius Cartier was blown to pieces, his head being picked up 200 yards from his body.

FORCED TO THE WALL.

Minneapolis, Aug. 12.—Jesse J. Jones, lumberman, has been forced to assign. His liabilities are $228,000 and his estimated assets $228,000. His commercial obligations are estimated at about $20,000. The Northern Trust company is the assignee.

SECOND WAGE RAISE.

Benwood, W. Va., Aug. 12.—Two thousand employees of the Riverside tube works have been notified of an increase of 10 per cent in their wages. This is the second increase of like amount in three months and places their wages where they were before the dull times two years ago.

STRIKING ITALIANS.

Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—One hundred and fifty Italians employed on the excavations for the conduit in Allegheny, struck yesterday for an advance in wages. Other men were secured to take their places, and today the strikers tried to drive the new men from the work. Stones, clubs and revolvers were freely used, and two Italians whose names could not be learned had their heads split open in the melee. The mob was dispersed by the police.

KANSAS CORN.

Crop is Immense and is Beyond Harm.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The "bigness of our corn crop beggars the arithmetic," said Frank P. Mann, editor of the Topeka State Journal, in an interview here today. "Instead of saying the state of Kansas now, you should say 'cornfield for state.' You will understand, in a measure, the corn figures of Kansas when I say to you that the crops will be more than 250,000,000 bushels. It will exceed 200,000,000. It will give 400 pounds to every man, woman and child in the United States and leave enough to send several loads to Russia."

"In Kansas it is customary to say early in the summer, 'one more good rain will insure the corn.' Since we began to use that stereotyped expression about the early part of July we have had one rain after another, the last a few days ago, all coming as if provided by a terrestrial rain maker who had discovered the real way to find the yellow grains of the corn-growing maize. The corn crop of 1887 has been saved more times than its nine chances to curl up and breathe the hot winds of the South. It is everlastingly saved. The parched-mouthed evil demon who in years past has blasted the hopes of the citizens of Kansas has not this season crossed the southern border of the state except in two or three small spots, where the hot breezes left a sample but declined to deliver the goods."

"Nothing but a regular Illinois cyclone which might blow the corn stalks out of the ground could now hurt the crop, and that would only give it to the adjoining counties and states and territories. The corn is practically 'made.' Much of it matured very early and has been so long on the stalk that it has become so hard that the leaves which have conveyed the nourishment to the other, now able to bend and also to hump for itself."

ILLINOIS' HARVEST.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Illinois' weekly weather crop bulletin, issued today, says: "The week has been generally favorable throughout the state for all crops. The temperature has averaged a few degrees above the normal, with two or three days of excessive heat. The few showers of the past week have been widely scattered, and in only a few limited districts have they been heavy. Vegetation and crops have not been retarded because of drought, except in a few districts in the northern part of the state. Corn now making solid growth, there being a full setting of ears which are filling rapidly. A crop much above the average is now assured."

The harvest is nearly completed and most of the wheat is graded as No. 1, according to law, and we have filed our official oaths with the city clerk, and in all respects have duly qualified and are recognized by the city council and also by the court decision rendered by Hon. M. R. Hopkins. Therefore we hereby notify you that having duly qualified and having been recognized, we as before set out, and having assumed the duties of said office, we name Wednesday, Aug. 14, at 10 o'clock a. m., as a suitable time to receive from you the records and property and rooms that properly belong to us as the lawful board of fire and police commissioners."

IN IOWA FIELDS.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 12.—The Iowa weekly weather crop bulletin, issued today, says: "The average temperature of the week was above normal. On the 8th and 9th brisk winds, with temperature above 90, caused apprehension of serious damage to the rapidly-maturing corn crop. This was relieved, in part, by cooler weather with scattered showers in the western and northern districts. The amount of rain was sufficient to afford substantial benefit to crops in about one-third of the state. In more than half of the state corn has unquestionably received some damage by weather since Aug. 1, and the present condition does not justify the promise of more than an average yield for the state at large. With timely rains to help the later fields and favorable weather throughout the balance of the season, corn will be highly satisfactory. Thrashing returns continue to show yields of oats much above the average and other small grains unusually heavy."

DWYER IS BACK.

Says Englishmen Like American Competitors.

New York Aug. 13.—M. P. Dwyer was among the passengers who arrived on the Fuldah this morning. Beyond stating that his return did not signify a complete withdrawal from English racing, he said he had no definite plans at length. It is believed he will leave for Europe again early in the fall. Mr. Dwyer said that he enjoyed his trip abroad exceedingly. He was asked when Mr. Croker would return, he replied that Mr. Croker would return the other side in about a month. He has, he said, secured passage on one of the American line steamships and would arrive near about the middle of September.

Mr. Dwyer said he and Mr. Croker had been treated with great consideration by everyone while in England, and taking into account the condition of their horses, he thought they had done very well. While the stable had not been quite as successful as they had hoped, he would not hesitate to send entries to the English races again. The English system of racing does not differ greatly from ours, he said, and he thought it had many admirable features. English horse owners and turfmen generally are anxious to have American competitors on the English tracks.

THE WALLER CASE.
Paris, Aug. 12.—There is absolutely nothing in the sensational story to the effect that United States Ambassador Ennals had been sent to the island of Madagascar, who was recently sentenced to twenty years imprisonment by court martial. On the contrary Mr. Ennals is pursuing the matter more energetically and is giving the case his closest consideration with the result that he hopes to soon arrive at a satisfactory result.

AHEAD OF TIME.

Tyson, Pa., Aug. 12.—W. B. Taylor and C. J. Mitchell, two Denver, Col., wheelmen who started from their home July 25 to ride to Philadelphia on a wager that they could reach that city by Aug. 25, here, being nine days ahead of schedule time, they have earned $200 of the money by giving concerts. They expect to reach Philadelphia by Saturday.

CLOSING AN ESTATE.

Fresno, Cal., Aug. 12.—The estate of William Woolen, who mysteriously disappeared nearly two years ago, and is supposed to have been murdered, was today ordered distributed by Judge Riley. The only heir is Thomas Woolen, brother of the deceased, who lives in England, and is a very old man.

Parties in West Duluth Talking of Establishing Such a Theater.

The Citizens Are Not a Unit
Either for or Against It.

Hurley Block Is the Building
Which is to Shelter It.

If competition is the life of trade, Ole Olsen's theater will probably experience a perceptible increase in business in the future. At any rate, it is reported that certain parties have leased the second story of the Hurley block on Central avenue for the purpose of opening up a variety theater, or, as it is termed, a concert hall. The lower floor of the building is already occupied by a saloon, so that the most important accessory to the business is already established.

Public opinion, so far as it has been expressed, seems to be greatly divided on the question of permitting such a form of amusement to flourish within the gates of West Duluth. Some people protest that it will be an abomination in the eyes of decent people and a grave temptation to the young men of this portion of the city. Others argue that there is a class of people who seek out such places in every community, and they might as well spend their money here as to go up to the city proper and wear out Ole Olsen's benches. The subject will probably be most extensively handled by both sides and meet with considerable discussion before it is settled that West Duluth shall put on metropolitan airs and become as eccentric as West Superior and Duluth.

WHEAT

After a Week Opening,
Wheat Went Up One
Cent Today.

Considerable Wheat Was Worked at Chicago, Part for Direct Export.

Cables Turned Strong When the Advance Here Became Known There.

Wheat opened weak today, but the shorts at Chicago took advantage of the break and covered freely which quickly checked the decline, much of it being attributed to Cudahy and crowd, and the market got a good upward start.
Other causes then began to develop to give the market additional strength.
The cables turned strong when the advance here became known there.
The cables opened lower in sympathy with the decline, but turned strong as soon as our strength became known over there. There was a good demand for cash wheat, and before noon
140,000 bus were reported worked at Chicago, part for direct export. New York wired that there was good continental buying there, Minneapolis said last week were about 1,500,000 bus below the estimated weekly requirements. Of the eighty-eight cars of new winter wheat at Chicago today only two graded No. 2 and of the twenty-three cars of new spring six graded No. 2.
The market held steady and featureless
after noon until the last fifteen minutes, when it grew stronger.
September opened here 3c off at 64c and with very light trading good to 65c, December started 3c off at 65c and sold up to 66c, and advanced New-mally at the close to 67c. The close was AMPHITRITE WON EASILY. Covos, Isle of Wight, Aug. 14.—The Yampa, owned by Mr. Palmer, and the Amphitrite, owned by Mr. Willis, raced over a 50-mile course today to settle the question of superiority. The Yampa won the race a week ago, but she carried nine more men than yachting contests allow and a protest was made. The Amphitrite won easily without her time allowance.

DESTROYED BY FIRE. Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 14.—A special to the Chattanooga Evening News says that the entire business part of Pikeville was destroyed by fire last night. Only one store is left standing today. The conflagration is supposed to be of incendiary origin. Total losses foot up $33,400; only $500 of insurance was carried on any of the property destroyed. The hotel was destroyed and court house was saved only by hard efforts. One man was overcome fighting the fire, but no one else was hurt.

PIREMAN FATALITY HURT. Cincinnati, Aug. 14.—By the overturning of a horse reel caused by the horse taking fright while running to a fire this morning Capt. Ed Myers and Pireman Al Doherty were fatally injured and Driver John Sherman seriously hurt.

THE AUDREY WON. Rye, Eng., Aug. 14.—In the race for starters under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht club the Audrey, the Isolda, the Inyoni, the Niagara, the Virena and the Luna started over a 25-mile course. The Niagara was the lead, but had her stay sail carried away and had to withdraw. The three first named boats won in the order named.

CENSUS

Guess at Duluth's Population Makes the Figures Nearly 53,000.

Little Falls Shows One of the Largest Gains in the State.

Ramsey County, Outside of St. Paul, Gains 606—Other Figures.

St. Paul, Aug. 14.—The state census bureau this morning completed the census count of Duluth, and while the gain has not been up to the expectations of some of the enthusiasts, who figured that it would surely be 100 per cent, it ought to be satisfactory, even to the ambitious city at the head of the lakes. The census officials decline to give out the figures, but it has been very close to 50 per cent. Duluth had a population of 33,115 in 1890, so, according to the rate of increase indicated, it will now have 52,646.

FIGURES OF OTHER PLACES. St. Paul, Aug. 14.—The census prints the following census figures. While not official, yet the figures are practically correct. The towns and cities in the agricultural regions, so far as heard from, have universally had a good increase in population during the last five years. In the lumbering regions some of the towns have shown a falling off, but the counties generally show a gain. Brainerd, it is conceded, will show a slight falling off, but Crow Wing county will undoubtedly show considerable gain. The city of Anoka has a loss of 443 people, dropping from 4252 to 3809, but the county has gained 1946, which Senator Dunham explains by saying that the people went from the town to the country during the recent hard times.

St. Cloud will show a gain of nearly, if not quite, 2000, and Mankato the same. The city of Rochester has jumped from 5321 to 6429, a gain of 1108. Crookston city and adjoining townships show up with 4778, as against 3555 in 1890, a gain of 523. Red Wing has had a gain of 553 in the past five years. In 1890 she had 6294 and she now has 7247.

Little Falls shows one of the largest gains in the state, doubling her population, the increase being from 2354 to 4477, a gain of 2123. St. Peter has increased from 1890 to 1900, a gain of 3671, a gain of 570. Northfield has gained 797, jumping from 2653 to 3450. Le Sueur has increased from 1890 to 1900, a gain of 1465. Albert Lea township and village has increased from 3927 to 5210, a gain of 1283. Worthington village and township has increased from 1890 to 1900, a gain of 465. 1106. Redwood Falls has made a gain of 301 to 1239. Marshall has jumped from 1203 to 1744, a gain of 541.

Glencoe village and township have increased from 2456 to 2823, a gain of 367. Fairmont village and township, with the connecting township, have increased from 2111 to 3301, a gain of 1190. Elk River village and township have increased from 1890 to 1900, a gain of 1190. Elk River village and township have increased from 1890 to 1900, a gain of 1190. Elk River village and township have increased from 1890 to 1900, a gain of 1190.

Buffalo, the county seat, has made a gain of 467, from 1232 to 1699. Detroit, Becker county, has increased from 1510 to 1801, a gain of 291.

Northfield shows a gain of 1202, an increase of from 2083 to 3285. Blue Earth falls came up to the 4000 mark, a gain of 1231, giving her 3390 population as against 1890, a gain of 507. There are several small towns in Goodhue county that have increased by the census. Canton, from 1897 to 1904, a gain of 397; Cannon Falls from 1890 to 1900, a gain of 275; Kenyon, from 1462 to 2054, a gain of 592. Ramsey county, outside of St. Paul, shows a gain of 606. The population in 1890 was 6539 and in 1895 7145. The population of the various districts for the census was as follows: New Brighton, 2397; New Canada, 1604; North St. Paul and Gladstone, 1020; White Bear village, 1334; White Bear township, 990.

CAPT. CROSS' PLAN.

How Hawaii Could Be Sure of Annexation.

Minneapolis, Aug. 14.—Capt. Judson N. Cross, a prominent attorney of this city, writes to President Dole at Honolulu this morning a letter containing a novel suggestion as to how Hawaii might annex herself to the United States without presidential intervention. His proposition is that Hawaii elect delegates to the American congress and demand that they be seated on the same basis as territorial delegates.

Congress, Capt. Cross says, would send them and that would settle the matter. He maintains that there are historical precedents and logical reasons for such a course of procedure.

RUSH CITY STORM.

Crops Seriously Damaged by Heavy Hail.

Minneapolis, Aug. 14.—A Rush City, Minn., special to the Journal says a heavy hail storm struck four miles west of there at 8 o'clock last night and in fifteen minutes did great damage. Hail stones larger than hen's eggs fell, and all exposed places were broken and the window sashes crushed in.

NEARLY TEN MILLION.

Sale of the Whisky Trust Properties Today.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Under authority of Federal Judge Schowalter, Gen. John McNulta, receiver of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company, sold the property of that corporation today to the reorganization committee for $2,800,000. Gen. McNulta was accompanied by United States Marshal Arnold and half a dozen deputies, and Levy Mayer, attorney for the reorganization committee; Attorney Allen and S. W. Rice, president of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company. They found a crowd of newspaper men, lawyers and stenographers already assembled on the steps of the federal building where the sale was made in the open air.

The preliminaries of the sale were begun by the reading of the advertisement containing the judicial decree ordering the sale. The advertisement was very lengthy and its reading occupied nearly an hour. The only bid entered is that of the reorganization committee. The property sold consists of seventeen distillery plants. According to the order of the court, McNulta took a stand upon the steps of the Clark street entrance to the court house. A little crowd of people gathered around to see the transfer of the great property. There had been rumors of a protest, but the monotone of the reading of the decree proceeded without interruption.

Charles Allen, one of the attorneys, acted as master of ceremonies, backed by United States Marshal Arnold and several deputies. President Rice and Secretary Allen represented the reorganization committee, with Levy Mayer, their attorney. At the conclusion of the reading of the court order, Gen. McNulta announced that he was ready for bids for the seventeen distilleries comprising the property of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company. Levy Mayer stepped forward and in the name of the reorganization committee bid $2,800,000.

The short and stout receiver climbed a step or two higher, and elevating his voice proceeded to fulfill the duties of a professional auctioneer. The round-faced receiver, however, his voice to its utmost as he called out, "I am bid $2,800,000 for the property of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company; $2,800,000. Do I hear any more bids? This is a public sale and anyone is permitted to bid. There are no reserves. There is a pause, but no one seemed to want the plants more than the reorganization committee, and no other bids were made.

"I hear no more bids," said Gen. McNulta, the receiver, "and I am bid $2,800,000, once; $2,800,000, twice; $2,800,000, three times and sold." And the property of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company changed hands with all the formality of a sale of a $4 brass watch at a county fair.

Mr. Mayer presented a certified check for $2,800,000 as a guarantee of good faith, and after examining the bill of paper, the receiver announced himself satisfied and declared the sale completed.

After the sale, the attorneys immediately left the court house and proceeded with the completion of the necessary details.

A TAME SURRENDER.

Omaha, Aug. 14.—The A. P. A. police and fire commission met at 10 o'clock in rooms selected in the city hall by the council for their use and sent a note to the old commission asking for a conference. The A. P. A. commission received a long letter from Chief of Police White in reply to their demand that he recognize the A. P. A. commissioners. The letter, while courteous in the extreme, was not in the least conciliatory. It was a declaration of war. "I have carefully read the decision rendered by Hon. J. G. Hopewell in the injunction proceeding just tried, and in said decision a paragraph appears wherein he says that the A. P. A. has the right to remain in peaceful possession and to exercise the functions of said office until otherwise ordered in a proper legal proceeding.

"Now because of this proceeding taken by Judge Hopewell, I feel that I am compelled to recognize and obey the orders of the honorable mayor and the board of fire and police commissioners, and to act in accordance with the provisions of the law as the same are enforced. In the mean time, I will cheerfully recognize the board that is to be the legal board. In the mean time, I will cheerfully recognize the board that is to be the legal board. In the mean time, I will cheerfully recognize the board that is to be the legal board.

The old commission then defined its position thus: "We believe that we are the only lawful board of police and fire commissioners of Omaha, and in the language of Judge Hopewell we have the right to remain peacefully in possession and to exercise the functions of said office until otherwise ordered in a proper legal proceeding. This is not new law; it is the application of long and well established principles of the facts in the case before him. This declaration of the law has the sanction of the best judicial tribunals and the approval of the ablest legal authority. If we have the right to remain in the peaceable possession and perform the duties of our office until these rights are taken from us by an order of the court in a legal proceeding, it follows as sure as day is to night, that any other method, whether direct or indirect, or whether involving force or violence tends to deprive us of those rights. These rights, with which we are invested by law, we shall not only assert, but with firmness maintain. Without violating any law, we shall strive to execute the law in a proper and dignified manner.

After an animated discussion, the old fire and police commission refusing any compromise on the basis of permitting the supreme court to pass on the situation, the A. P. A. commission showed that it was ready to meet the old commission should continue to conduct the offices of the city until a decision was reached by the supreme court. This was considered a definite settlement of the case.

SLIVER

Democratic Conference in Interest of Silver Opens at Washington.

Twenty-two States Are Represented in the Delegation Lists.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, Unanimously Elected as Chairman.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The corridors of the Metropolitan hotel were crowded early today with delegates of the conference of silver Democrats called to meet there today for the purpose of agreeing upon a line of policy to be pursued in the interest of silver in the party.

While the call for the conference, issued by Senators Harris, Turpie and Jones, of Arkansas, did not specify the hour, the meeting was postponed until noon.

The forenoon was spent in a general exchange of views, and in formulating plans for the meeting. There was a rather larger attendance than had been counted on and the hotel is crowded by delegates and silver sympathizers. The leaders of the movement were anxious to correct the impression that it was intended the meeting should be a mass convention. They appeared to think this idea had been scattered broadcast by the gold men with the view of making it appear in the end that the meeting had been a failure. There were consequently numerous requests that the newspapers should make it clear that it never intended the gathering should be more than a conference among leaders of the silver sentiment in the Democratic party.

Among those who appeared early at the hotel were Senators Jones, of Arkansas; Daniel and Harris and ex-Senators Jarvis, of North Carolina, and Walsh, of Georgia. Mr. Casey Young, of Tennessee, who has conducted the correspondence concerning the conference on behalf of the senatorial committee, and Representatives Cox, of Tennessee; Oley, of Virginia; Livingston, of Georgia; McNulta, of Arkansas; and Brookshire, of Indiana, Secretary of State Hinrichsen, of North Carolina, Secretary of State Stephens, of North Carolina, Secretary of State Hill, of North Carolina, a bank president, and George Allen, a railroad man.

Joseph H. Daniels, of North Carolina, was one of the busiest of those present. Mr. Nell, secretary of the state Democratic committee of Colorado, was the only representative from that state. "We need a big delegation from the people know how we stand," he said. J. F. Saulsbury, of Delaware, was the sole representative of that state. E. W. Carmack, of the Memphis Commercial Appeal; State Senator Wenfield, of Virginia; A. W. Clark, of Indiana; John S. Beard, of Florida, and Congressman Leckhart, of North Carolina, were among the delegates who arrived early.

Mr. Casey Young, in reply to questions, said that the correspondence indicated that about two-thirds of the states of the Union would be represented, and he confirmed the statement that the meeting was intended to be simply a conference of Democratic leaders to shape the party policy on the silver question as far as possible.

The meeting was called to order at 12 o'clock by Senator Harris, who moved that Senator Jones be called to the chair as temporary chairman, which motion carried unanimously. George M. Louerone, of Illinois, was chosen secretary of the meeting. The meeting began behind closed doors, with instructions to the door-keepers to admit only those who had been invited.

When the roll was called, representatives answered from twenty-two different states, but names were given to the secretary of only nineteen. Virginia headed the list in point of numbers, with fifteen delegates, while Illinois and Missouri reported fourteen each. Other states represented were: Alabama, 4; Ohio, 1; Georgia, 1; Indiana, 1; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 1; Kentucky, 1; Mississippi, 1; North Dakota, 1; West Virginia, 2; Arkansas, 3; Colorado, 3; South Carolina, 1; North Carolina, 3; Florida, 4, headed by Senator Call, and Tennessee, 4.

Senator Jones made a brief speech on taking the chair, confining himself to thanking the conference for the honor, and expressing the hope that the proceedings would be harmonious and productive of good results. Senator Daniel offered a resolution providing for the appointment by the chair of a committee to prepare a program and resolutions, which was carried and the committee was announced as follows:

Senator J. W. Daniel, Virginia; E. W. Carmack, Tennessee; J. W. Johnston, Alabama; Patrick Walsh, Georgia; A. W. Clark, Indiana; W. H. Hinrichsen, Illinois; T. J. Jarvis, North Carolina; Governor W. J. Stone and H. H. Hill, of Missouri; A. A. Woodson, Kentucky; Olney Newell, Colorado; W. R. Bierley, North Dakota; S. S. Yoder, Ohio; J. F. Saulsbury, Delaware; William Coleman, Maryland; W. S. Stockdale, Mississippi; J. F. Truettan, South Carolina; J. J. Cornwell, West Virginia; Silas Hare, Texas; Senator J. K. Jones, Arkansas.

After the appointment of this committee the conference adjourned until 4 p. m.

WHAT SMALLER IS DOING.

St. Paul, Aug. 14.—It is now expected that E. V. Smalley, president of the Press club and of the chamber of commerce, and editor of the Northwest Magazine, will not return from New York until some time in September. For several weeks he has been in New York using his best efforts to defeat the pending consolidation of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, and matters are in such shape that he will be kept busily engaged for several weeks longer.

THE WEATHER.

U. S. Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Minn., Aug. 14.—The storm area which yesterday morning covered the Dakotas is now central near Fort Arthur. Its passage over Minnesota yesterday was marked by heavy thunder storms and general showers. In the Dakotas and portions of Minnesota the maximum temperatures ranged generally between 90 and 100 degrees, the highest being reported in South Dakota. These conditions were followed by a decided fall in temperature over the extreme Northwest last night. A minimum temperature of 52 degrees occurred at Calgary and killing frost in Northern Montana.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 81; maximum yesterday, 84; minimum yesterday, 57; rainfall, 0.4 inch.
Frosts are predicted for tonight in Minnesota and Wisconsin.
Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity, till 10 a. m. tomorrow: Clearing today; fair and decidedly cooler tonight; fair Thursday; brisk westerly winds.

JAMES KENEALY,
Local Forecast Official.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Forecast until 8 a. m. tomorrow: Wisconsin: Fair tonight and Thursday; cooler fresh northwest winds; probably light frost in northern portion. Minnesota: Fair cooler tonight; cooler in southern portion. Thursday, probably light frost in northwest; northwest winds.
Depth of water over river sill, St. Mary's ship canal, 14 feet, 3 inches, and it will remain stationary for the next twenty-four hours. Upper lakes: Lake Michigan and Lake Superior overcast; fair; winds shifting to brisk north-west and cooler.
The temperature has fallen 10 to 15 degrees in the Northwest and 14 degrees at Duluth. Heavy reports killing frost and light frost occurred at Williams, N. D. Conditions favor the occurrence of light frost in Northwest Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. Shorter and heavier rains have occurred from Minnesota and Lake Superior over the Missouri valley and Middle Rocky Mountain districts.

ANOTHER BOND ISSUE.

A Washington dispatch of yesterday said: "Gold shipments continue, and another million will go Thursday from the reserve. The government is now coming to the rescue. It is said, when the reserve goes below $100,000,000. There is no doubt but that the reserve will dwindle after Oct. 1, when the contract with the syndicate expires, but it comes direct from President Cleveland to the treasury department that a call for the issue of bonds will be made whenever the gold reserve goes down to $80,000,000."

Another bond issue? Another burden placed upon the nation in the shape of interest-bearing bonds, out of which a syndicate of Wall street and London bankers will make a profit of millions? How long is this state of things to continue? When will the chain cease to revolve? When will the whole country perceive that the only way to end this state of things is to adopt genuine bimetalism—to open the mints to the free coinage of both gold and silver? The Philadelphia Manufacturer states the situation very clearly in the following words:

"Not only has the country begun to shiver again because small quantities of gold are exported, but the expressions by the newspapers of humble confidence in the ability of the gold syndicate to keep the treasury on its feet are accompanied by severe rebuke of the unpatriotic action of certain persons who take gold from the treasury. But, if these people want gold they do exactly right. Get it where it may be most easily had. Considerations of patriotism are not in any manner involved in the transaction. Want of patriotism is manifested only by the persons who are able to rejoice that the credit of this rich nation is in the keeping of two hired Englishmen, and who use all their efforts to maintain a currency system that permits the existence of conditions which compel such dependence and which fill the land with panic whenever an export movement of gold begins.

"The strangest thing apparent to the vision of reasonable men at this moment is that the British gold system, producing shameful and perilous consequences like these, should have the exultant admiration of multitudes of Americans. Hardly less wonderful is it that a nation with an abundance of another precious metal, which is just as serviceable now as it has been for twenty centuries, should stake its commercial peace and its financial security upon gold which has been made artificially scarce and then cornered solely that the nation might be plucked and plundered by foreigners. Nothing is more nearly certain than that, with bimetalism, we should have not only plenty of silver but more gold, and perfect ease in the treasury. When the people awaken from the nightmare which now afflicts them, there will be expressions of astonishment that they could so long have been blinded and befuddled by their European enemies."

A BOORISH INCIDENT.

The contemptible attack made by the News Tribune yesterday morning on Secretary Carlisle, while he was virtually a guest of the city of Duluth, has naturally caused some very harsh comment upon the blundering idiom that was responsible for its publication. The article was as ill-timed as its charges and insinuations were false, and the people of Duluth will trust that the article did not meet the secretary's notice.

It is not often that Duluth is visited by a member of the cabinet, and it is shameful that anything should be printed here on such an occasion which so utterly misrepresents public sentiment. There is no one but has the kindest feelings for Mr. Carlisle as a man and as a leading member of the cabinet, no matter how maliciously they differ with him politically. All were pleased to see him making a tour of the great lakes and becoming acquainted with the mighty volume of commerce which is carried in the lake vessels, and they will be glad to welcome him again, with the hope that upon his next visit he will find it convenient to remain here a few days and become acquainted with the people, who are not of the boorish disposition which the article in the morning paper would indicate.

DEEP WATERWAY CONVENTION.

Duluth should be well represented at the next deep waterways convention, which will be held in Cleveland Sept. 24-28. The executive committee has received assurances that many prominent public men, members of congress, governors of states, business men and farmers will attend the convention, so that it promises to be a very large and representative gathering, befitting the great and important subject to be discussed. The need and value of such conventions have been demonstrated in the past. The influence which they wield is always felt at Washington in securing the appropriations by congress for carrying on the work of improving the lake waterways.

The growth of the lake commerce demands still greater improvements in the waterway between Duluth and Buffalo, and in the important harbors at both ends of the route. At the same time the popular demand for a waterway from the great lakes to the Atlantic ocean is steadily increasing. The next congress will no doubt be asked to make an appropriation for securing this object, since the people of New York state are apparently unable to grasp the central idea of the scheme and foolishly imagine that the wishes of the West will be met by deepening the Erie canal.

The West wants a waterway to the sea twenty feet deep, and if New York state will not provide it then this country must unite with Canada in providing such a waterway through the Canadian canals and the St. Lawrence river.

The growth of the commerce between Lake Superior and the lower lake ports is shown by the reports of the Sault canal officials. It should be remembered that at least 75 per cent of the tonnage passing through the canal is commerce to and from Duluth. Each month reports from the canal tend to confirm the belief that the freight tonnage of the canal this season will exceed 15,000,000. Up to and including July 31 (practically three months of the season) the aggregate of freight passed through the canal was 5,775,415 net tons, of which 5,393,065 tons was eastbound and 382,347 tons westbound. The July statement of canal business, published in detail by The Herald ten days ago, exceeded in nearly every item all previous records for a single month. The present canal is altogether inadequate to take care of the rush of business, and the result has been serious and costly delay to vessels in getting locked through. The need of the new canal, which is fast approaching completion, is urgent. These are matters upon which the convention can dwell, and the facts and figures cannot fail to impress the whole country with the magnitude of the lake commerce and the importance of this great international highway.

The feeling between St. Paul and Minneapolis may be bitter, but not more so than the feeling between Chicago and St. Louis, as witness the following from a recent issue of a St. Louis paper: The Chicago river is in a peculiarly active state now, and the surrounding territory is said to be very nearly uninhabitable. Windyville is experiencing a return of the days when the story was told of one of her inhabitants who traveled in a Pullman car as far as Rock Island and fell in a dead faint as soon as he got a breath of fresh air in the morning. The usual restoratives were applied without avail, when an old Pullman porter hurried away and returned with an ancient and vociferous fish. When this was applied to the Chicagoan's nostrils he opened his eyes and with a long sigh, exclaimed: "Ah! home again!"

The party of distinguished Democratic statesmen scheduled for a visit to the Northwest and West this fall will not take the jaunt mapped out for them last spring. A. T. Ankeny, Minnesota's representative to the National Association of Democratic clubs, is in receipt of a notice to that effect from Secretary Lawrence Gardner, of Washington. This is the party of spellbinders that designed to convert the West to the gold standard and was to fire the opening gun at Duluth. They probably concluded that their task was impossible.

Col. Bill Morrison says "Mr. Hill wants the presidency himself." No doubt he does, but Mr. Hill is willing to let somebody else be the Democratic candidate next year—Col. Morrison, for instance—while he will wait until the omens are more propitious for Democratic success.

Judge Vanderburgh, Judge Rea and other prominent men in Minneapolis are taking steps to form a club to advocate bimetalism. Thus the great movement continues to spread. Senator Washburn, who has just returned from Europe, has declared himself in favor of bimetalism.

The only complete report of Mr. Towne's speech at the Temple tonight will be found in The Herald tomorrow. The Herald has made arrangements to obtain a verbatim report of the speech, which will undoubtedly be read with great interest, and will publish a large edition to meet the demand.

After the article in yesterday's edition was written, in regard to the effect upon the lake levels of the Chicago drainage canal, a dispatch was received from Chicago stating that the commission appointed by the secretary of war to investigate the matter, has arrived there and will begin work at once.

And now an Eastern paper quotes the Hon. Eli Perkins as authority for the statement that "the silver craze is dying out." Eli Perkins has a record as a liar.

Go to the Temple tonight and hear the cause of bimetalism expounded by Mr. Towne. You will enjoy it and be instructed.

St. Paul and Minneapolis are still keeping up the census war. Where is the Peace Arbitration society?

SURVIVAL OF THE BARN.

Kansas City World: It has been undisturbed that in Minneapolis leading families still cling to the old style of eating in the kitchen; also, that the masculine members of the household are accustomed to seek the seducement that barn affords when they take their post-prandial smoke. The use of the family barn as a place for social recreation, it seems, is also quite generally retained. The Minneapolis Times of Thursday gave an elaborate notice of a party which was held in a well-appointed and spacious barn at the rear of the residence of Thomas Lowry.

WHY DULUTH IS HAPPY.

St. Cloud Times: Duluth will not equal Minneapolis and St. Paul in population, but her four-oared boat crew beat them last night in the Minnesota regatta on Friday, and the Zenith City is correspondingly happy.

BIKES AND BLOOMERS.

Washington Post: Miss Coleman, the Ohio girl who is said to have gone to church wearing a pair of red bloomers, has denied the story. They were blue bloomers. Well, a couple of stacks of blue only the municipal judge taking a hand.

The rose is red, the violet blue; Both are sweet, likewise are you. Eli I proceed, please answer this: "Bloomers are"—Detroit Tribune.

NEVER HEARD OF STEARNS' COUNTY.

St. Paul Globe: Mr. Watterson is perhaps the prittiest fellow in the Northwest, but when he says Mr. Cleveland will not carry a county in the United States. Perhaps Mr. Watterson has never heard of Stearns county, Minnesota.

EFFECTUALLY BAR COMPETITION.

Detroit, Minn. Record: We hope the Northwest Magazine is correct in summing up the much-talked-of consolidation of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern systems under one management, as it does in the article copied below. The success of the proposed deal would effectually bar all railroad competition in the Northwest for years to come, and it is sincerely to be hoped that the Minnesota statutes will prove an effective bar to the consummation of the plan.

THE COMBINE OPPOSED.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: There seems to be a great deal of doubt about J. J. Hill getting control of the Northern Pacific after all. It will be much better for the whole Northwest to have two independent lines, and the longer it will be much better for the railroad interests of the country to keep them separate. We are of the opinion that it is an idea that is growing in this country, and the control of two big lines like the Great Northern and Northern Pacific by one man would help this sentiment along amazingly. The American people have a just stock of patience and are long-suffering, but when they are crowded just a little too hard the corporations and the long arm of Uncle Sam's footstool.

REWARD MUST BE RAISED.

Fort Francis News: Up to the time of going to press we have received no word of the capture of the Rainy Lake bank robbers. We are of the opinion that unless Mr. Butler adds $10 or $15 more to the reward offered these rascals will never be arrested and brought to justice.

LOST OPPORTUNITIES.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: A. J. Whitman, late of Duluth, but now in jail in San Francisco for forgery, is making a desperate fight for his liberty, and claims that his sister and her husband have entered into a conspiracy against him in order to have him sent to prison. If Whitman expended half as much energy in honest labor as he is now exercising in getting out of jail, his life would have been a success, as few men in this country had so good opportunities.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14.—By the explosion of a large boiler in the paper mill and postal card manufactory of Woolworth & Co. at Castleton, 10 miles from here today, one man, James Lawton, the watchman, was killed and another, the engineer, was so badly injured that it is believed he will die.

TWO NEW STRIKES.

New York, Aug. 14.—Two new strikes were begun on the East side today, in accordance with resolutions passed last night by the Children's Jacketmakers' local assembly 135, K. of L. and the Pantsmakers' local assembly, demanding contracts for one year instead of six months. Although the strike of the thing like 7000 or 8000 persons thrown out of work by the strike, but the leaders assert that it will last but a few days.

THREE THRESHERS KILLED.

Morgantown, W. Va., Aug. 14.—John Black & Sons were threshing yesterday when the boiler of the machine exploded killing three men and injuring four others. John Spots, Curtin Emmons and John Blair are the killed. Curtin Emmons was struck by a piece of the boiler and literally torn to pieces, his legs and feet were found near the barn. All of Blair's clothing was torn from him except his shoes.

THE ROUNDUP.

The man on the entrance gate at the Pavilion had an experience that considerably upset him yesterday afternoon during the matinee rush. The gateway was filled with the matinee audience, and he was unable to get up into the auditorium where the music was just beginning. Two well-dressed ladies came up and halted in the line, impeding all progress. "Sir," said the younger of the two after a long preamble, "My friend and I have been up here so often I should think you might let us through this once for nothing."

"Go on," snapped the flustered gate-man. "Today is bargain day."

WORKS WONDERS.

A certain young married couple of philanthropic impulses went last week to call on a family who were in destitute circumstances and in need of aid. On arriving the young matron asked the lady of the house if she had received any assistance.

"Oh, yes," she remarked in reply, "all we need is some better and cheaper clothes. Otherwise we are all right."

There is a festive air living in the vicinity of East Second street and Eleventh avenue who is possessed of the stored up in remarkable degree. It is because of these that grumpy warfare rears its head in the neighborhood and the seducement that neighbors pass one another without speaking. The feud originated through a pet cat which strayed from its home and was seen in the neighborhood of the feuders.

Now the cat had among its board of directors a little girl who used to dress it up and comb its whiskers. She missed her pet one day last week and after a long search found Grimaldine, the cat, in the snare and about on the verge of discomfiture. The little girl's screams brought her mother who released the cat. It was twenty-four hours before puss came to. His owner vowed vengeance and the next day the hunter of cats was told into his neighbor's yard and soundly thrashed.

The humane officer has been drawn into the conflict and there are possibilities of the municipal judge taking a hand.

She drifted into the shoe store at the corner of white and gold and the impressionable clerk hastened to seat himself at her feet. She was dressed in the latest mode and wore a charming little pair of gold banded glasses which gave her a learned air.

The Rounder, who happened to be in the store, felt his heart palpitating and peeped cautiously forward as she lifted her dainty skirts displaying a vision of the conflict and well-tanned ankle. She was about to speak and the observer held his breath to listen to the words which must belong to such a being.

"Say," she said in a voice like a steel spring, "I have just had a pair of clogs and sent them down to the Lyceum, care of the Wilburs. See?"

NEWS FROM JAPAN.

Recent Railway Accident Was Greatly Exaggerated.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 14.—The steamer Empress of Japan has arrived with advice from Yokohama up to Aug. 2. The number of deaths reported in the railway accident of July 25 was greatly exaggerated. Only sixteen soldiers were killed and sixteen were more or less seriously injured. The statement that the train was blown bodily off the track into the sea is also discredited. It is believed that some of the rails were displaced by the waves, which were high at the time of the accident, and that the cars consequently ran over the edge of an embankment and were plunged into the deep water.

The effects of the storm were disastrous in all southwestern provinces of Japan. Since the purchase of the ironclad vessels by the Japanese navy, the Japanese have not looked to the United States for additions to their navy, but it is now reported that the Japanese navy is now being built up by the United States. The Japanese navy is now being built up by the United States. The Japanese navy is now being built up by the United States.

Able and Exhaustive Address on Bimetallism by Congressman Towne.

The Ruinous Effects of the Single Gold Standard Fully Portrayed.

He Will Work for Bimetallism by an International Agreement.

Failing That, He Would Have This Country go it Alone.

Hon. Charles A. Towne fired the opening gun in the campaign of education on behalf of bimetallism at the Temple Opera house last night under the auspices of the Gold and Silver club of Duluth, and poured a broadside of rhetorical logic into the ranks of the single gold standard advocates. The theater was packed with an appreciative audience that applauded the speaker's telling points which demolished the gold monometallists' theories. In the boxes and scattered through the audience were a fair proportion of ladies, who seemed as interested in Mr. Towne's able exposition of facts as their male escorts.

Among the hearers of the brilliant speaker seated in the parquette and boxes were: J. H. LaVague, E. W. Markell, Capt. Pressnell, G. A. Leland, C. E. Lovett, J. C. Hollenbeck, George R. Laybourne, C. C. Clayton, C. H. Harris, O. W. Baldwin, Henry Haskins and C. O. Baldwin. On the stage with the speaker were: Capt. W. H. Smallwood, D. G. Cash, Judge Carey, R. C. Mitchell, Henry Truesdell, Judge Brownell, J. E. Meyers, Col. Evans, of the National Reformers' club; John Owens, J. C. Moshier, Amos Shephard, Giles Gilbert, R. S. Munger, J. H. art, Col. E. C. Gridley, Judge McGindley, H. H. Hawkins, of Carver; Olf Stenson, Rev. W. W. Newell, Dr. V. Smith and Ed Oswald.
As the curtain rose President Giles Gilbert stepped before the footlights and called the great gathering to order. After announcing that the next meeting of the Gold and Silver club of Duluth would be held at the city hall next Wednesday night, he said:
"The Hon. Charles A. Towne, who will be the speaker of the evening, is too well known to need introduction to a Duluth audience. He will address you on the subject in which we are all so much interested and which has such a vital import on the welfare of the country."

Mr. Towne's appearance was greeted with an ovation, and it was fully five minutes before the applause had subsided. He came prepared with a multiplicity of charts illustrating the production of gold (in value) measured in silver; the average prices of commodities for 100 years; the fall in price of silver and commodities and other points bearing on the address. Mr. Towne spoke as follows, being frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause and being loudly cheered at the close. He said:

MR. TOWNE'S ADDRESS.

An Able Discussion of the Money Question.

Mr. Chairman, Members of the Duluth Gold and Silver Club and Ladies and Gentlemen: The invitation to address such an audience in this community and under the auspices of such an organization, an honor gratefully received and a privilege gladly embraced. The members of the Gold and Silver club comprise men as honest, intelligent and patriotic as can be found. They represent the opinion of an earnest, investigating and firmly believed to have entered upon the quest of the truth. Into such a forum and upon such an issue I come with cheerful resignation which comforts and sustains a man who means to do right and believes he is doing it. I realize, too, how perilous it is in these days of guile to have come here tonight. The fact that I have proclaimed mine a question of supreme importance within the scope of my unavoidable or-

DOUBLE MURDER.

Cordova, Ills., Excited by a Ghastly Crime.

Moline, Ill., Aug. 15.—What seems to be a double murder has thrown the village of Cordova, twenty miles up the river, into a state of great excitement. Last Sunday afternoon, while boating in the river near Cordova, William Gale discovered the body of a colored woman and towed it ashore. She was apparently 28 years of age and was thought to be a cook or chambermaid on one of the river boats. Nothing was found on her person to reveal her identity, bearing a spoon and a photograph of a colored man, recognized as Charles Jones, cook of the steamer Sydney. The steamer's officers reported the chambermaid missing. Later a farmer's wife near Cordova reported the body of a woman who had previously called in company with a colored man, asking for food. She also identified the spoon and the place where the body was discovered. Shortly after a mound of sand was opened and five inches below the surface was found the body of a male child (colored), 18 months old, head crushed and leg broken, apparently stamped to death in the sand and hastily buried. The body was supposed to be the one seen with the woman, bought a ticket Saturday at Cordova for Chicago. He displayed several $20 gold pieces. Detectives are doing everything possible to solve the mystery.

THE SURVEYOR GENERAL.

Ed. Durant Has Not Been Selected as Yet.

Washington, Aug. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—It has been ascertained that there is no foundation whatever for the report recently telegraphed that President Cleveland had decided to appoint E. W. Durant, surveyor general of the territory of Minnesota to succeed Gen. Compton, of Fargo. The Herald correspondent has interviewed the prominent officials of the department regarding this matter and they assert positively that neither President Cleveland nor Secretary Smith, up to the present time, have made any decision whatever on the subject. There is information to the effect that the matter has not been given any consideration whatever. The departure of President Cleveland from Washington is a successor to Gen. Compton will not be brought forward until his return to Washington. There is a possibility that Congress will not be taken up until Congress reassembles in December.

There's only one baking powder to ask for when you want the best—Dr. Price's.

BLAZING OILS.

Fierce Fire at Findlay Now Raging.

Toledo, O., Aug. 15.—An explosion and resulting fire entirely consumed the plant of the Petroleum refinery, Findlay, with $50,000 loss, half insured. A benzine tank first exploded, cause unknown, and in an instant the building was wrapped in seething flames. The men, William Adams and William Bemis, were probably fatally burned. Ten oil stills caught next and on top of the other exploded, sending flaming oil over the surrounding buildings. Next two tanks of crude oil, containing 10,000 gallons, caught fire, sending red columns of flame 200 feet into the air. A mammoth tank which was fired into with a cannon, letting the oil run out where it caught fire. The oil is still burning. The smoke obscures the heavens for miles.

MURDERER HOLMES.

He Will Be Taken to Chicago for Trial.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—It has practically been decided that the murderer of Minnie and Annie Williams, before Pitzel and a half dozen others, will go to Chicago for trial for the murder of the two girls. This, it was said, was the outcome of a conference held here between W. A. Capis, of Port Worth, Tex., and District Attorney Graham. Graham said that he had urged the district attorney to take Holmes to go to Chicago and the Mr. Graham could hardly refuse to grant his request.

HABEAS CORPUS.

A Writ is Granted to Default Taylor.

Minneapolis, Aug. 15.—A Pierre, S. D., special to the Journal says: The supreme court has granted a temporary writ of habeas corpus in the case of W. W. Taylor, and it has been served on the sheriff. It is returnable in three days.

SENTENCED FOR LIFE.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 15.—A telegram from Brandon, Miss., says that when Marshall, Coleman and Fox were arranged in court this morning for the murder of T. D. Dinkins, a few days ago, all three entered a plea of guilty and were sentenced to the state penitentiary for life.

WILL STOP A BULL FIGHT.
Denver, Aug. 15.—The Colorado Humane society, through its secretary, has applied to Governor Salome to issue a proclamation forbidding the proposed Mexican bull fight at Gillette, Sept. 24. It is believed the governor will exercise all the power in his office, even to the extent of calling out troops, if need be, to prevent the exhibition.

DISTILLERIES START UP.
Peoria, Ill., Aug. 15.—A Peoria distiller who attended the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company sale yesterday, reported that two or three Peoria distilleries will be started up under a new corporation about Oct. 15.

SWINDLED OUT OF $50.
Fargo, N. D., Aug. 15.—Yesterday morning, a stranger sent a telegram to P. McDonald, of Duluth, asking him to look up a man named F. J. McDonald, who is supervising the paving contract in Fargo. The man came all night, but today it was learned that the sonder of the message was Roger Timlin, and the police are after him.

These Figures Now Said to Represent the Population of Duluth.

Which is Much Better Showing Than Reported Yesterday.

This is Nearer to Best Estimates of the City's Population.

St. Paul, Aug. 15.—The figures sent out from here yesterday giving the Duluth census were erroneous. According to information obtained by the Dispatch at the secretary of state's office this afternoon, the new census of Duluth will show a population of about 59,000. The Dispatch, in giving the figures in this afternoon's issue, says: "This is not all growth, but includes West Duluth and the other small towns which have recently been incorporated into the city by annexation."

The fact is, however, that the population of the added territory was only 5,000, while the population of the city of Duluth in 1890, according to the federal census, was 33,115. This would make the total population in 1890 of all the territory included in the present city of Duluth about 38,115. If the present census shows a population of 59,000, as is now stated, the increase during the five years has been 21,185.

Later—The following are the exact and official figures showing the population of Duluth by wards as given out by the census office today:

DEMOCRATS TALK.

Some Speeches at the Silver Conference Today.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The silver men continued the conference at 10 o'clock today. The committee on resolutions and program being unable to report when the meeting was first called to order, it was suggested that the conference should listen to speeches by those present. C. F. Cockran, editor of the St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette said it seemed anomalous that a meeting such as the present should be called, for he knew of no doctrine of the party which was not in consonance with the purposes of this conference. He declared against the perpetuation of the national banks, whose tyranny, he said, was the greatest that any people would bear. The national banks were directly opposed to Democracy. He was for a declaration for silver, without regard to the prospect of success or failure at the polls.

Representative Neill, of Arkansas, wanted to see the free coinage of silver provided for at the next session, "regardless of the position of the distinguished citizen at the other end of the avenue." Which sentiment was loudly applauded.
Ex-Representative Philbin, of Illinois, denied that the free silver sentiment was dying out in that state. He said that all the Democratic farmers and 90 per cent of the business men in the state were silver men. He declared that he had been defeated in the last election, not because of his position on silver, but because he had to bear the odium of an administration which was not Democratic. (Applause.)

Representative Livingston, of Georgia, said it was time for another declaration of independence. "It is the purpose of the country from which I come," he said, "to prosecute the fight with their coats off and their sleeves rolled up and not to desist until the end. It was England's purpose," he asserted, "to control the United States and finding herself unable to do so by force of arms, she had undertaken to do it by controlling our finances."

VICTORIA'S SPEECH.

Was Read by Lord Salisbury Before Parliament.

London, Aug. 15.—After the house of commons recessed today the members were summoned to the house of lords with the usual formalities and the queen's speech was read by the lord chancellor, Baron Salisbury. It was as follows:
"My lords and gentlemen: The communications which I receive from foreign powers assure me of the continuance of their good will. I am happy to say that no international complication has arisen in any quarter calculated to endanger the peace of Europe. The war between China and Japan, which was in progress at the opening of the last session, has been brought to a conclusion by a peace which I trust will ensure observed strict neutrality during the war and have taken no action in respect thereto except such as appears to me likely to be favorable to a termination of hostilities."

"I deeply regret to say that the most atrocious outrages upon a body of English missionaries are reported from the province of Ku Kien in China. In reply to earnest representations addressed to the Chinese government by my direct viceroy, active measures, which I trust will prove effective, are being taken for the punishment of the murderers and all persons in any degree responsible for these crimes."
"The internal troubles which have broken out in the Armenian districts near Asiatic Turkey have been attended with horrors which have moved to indignation the Christian nations of Europe generally and my people especially. My ambassador, with those of France and Russia, acting together, have suggested to the government of the sultan reforms which in their opinion are necessary to prevent a recurrence of constant disorder. The proposals are now being considered by the sultan, and I am anxious to know his decision."

The speech concluded with a reference to the incorporation of Bechuanaland into the Cape Colony. The speech to the house of commons merely says that the estimates for the service of the year which were not allowed at the last session will be laid before them. The second portion of the speech says:
"My lords and gentlemen: At this season of the year it will probably be desirable to take time to consider any important legislative measures necessary where necessary to provide for the administrative charges of the year."

They carried with them the standard of the Deutscher Krieger Verein, the American flag. The column marched through the center of the city to the Dearborn street station. The veterans took the train for New York by way of Niagara Falls. The steamer Pulla will steam out of New York harbor Saturday, carrying them back to Germany to participate in the celebration in the fatherland.

SICKNESS

Doctors Report Considerable as Existing in West Duluth at Present.

There is considerable sickness in West Duluth at present, cholera infantum and typhoid fever being the most prevalent diseases. The latter disease is attributed to imperfect sewerage and impure water. It appears to be the consensus of opinion that if a system of sewerage is not designed and carried out in this portion of the city before many years Duluth will have cause to regret want of action. There is particular danger here owing to such an extent of level territory and the lack of natural drainage.

Dr. Graham, of the board of health, said this morning that it was his belief that typhoid fever now prevalent was the result of drinking impure well water. He says that he knows of only one case where the disease was likely to propagate the disease if ever so little water is left in the cans.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

come to you if you're a suffering woman. The messenger in this case is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It's a tonic and nerve, a remedy prescribed by an eminent physician and specialist for all the peculiar ills and ailments of women.

My daughter, Miss Meehan, was sick and we called in one of the best doctors here. She got so weak that I had to help her out of bed and draw her in a chair. She then tried some of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In less than a week she was out of bed and has been working about five weeks now, and looks the picture of health.

As for myself I feel much better of my female complaint, before taking the Favorite Prescription. I am, Yours respectfully,
Mrs. NANCY MEEHAN,

THE THIRD TRIAL.

A Case Which Has Once More
Bobbed Up.

A familiar title in the district court calendar for some time has been the Wisconsin Red Pressed Brick company against David Hood and the Hurd Refrigerator company to recover for brick used in the Hurd Refrigerator company's plant at Now Duluth. The claim is small, only about $100, but the case came up for its third trial this morning before Judge Lewis, after two trials to the supreme court, and the bill of costs amounts to more than the original claim.

Indeed the claim is probably almost as much to escape the payment of costs as to settle the original litigation. Both the other judges have tackled the case and have been ruled, and now it comes before Judge Lewis. David Hood is the contractor who built the Hurd plant. In his contract with Hurd brick known as "red run" was called for. In his contract with the brick company he called for common brick of good quality.

The bricks supplied were not the kind called for in the contract with Hurd, so the latter refused to pay for them. Hood claimed that they were not the kind mentioned in his contract with Hurd, but the brick company because they contained a latent defect in the clay which composed them, so that they broke up in the building.

Judge Ensign heard the case first and he found for the defense, holding that the bricks were not the kind called for in the contract with Hurd. The case was then taken up by the jury, which found for the plaintiff, holding that the bricks were not the kind called for in the contract with Hurd.

He declared that the defendants had not introduced testimony to show that there was a latent defect in the brick and that the clay of which they were composed. This also was revised and the case now comes back for a third hearing.

In the case of the Hastings Malt company against the Iron Range Brewing company, in which Judge Lewis recently found that the stockholders were not liable for the debts of the corporation, the defendants have filed notice of a motion to amend the findings so as to give judgments against the stockholders for the amounts claimed.

Victor Linley has sued C. H. Stuckey for $600 on a note made by the Little Mountaineer Iron Mining company, and endorsed by the defendant. Walter Ayers is plaintiff's attorney.

Dr. Charles Armstrong, formerly a fireman on the tug Carlington, has sued B. H. Inman for $200 damages for a broken clock which while hanging from the Northern Pacific dock at the tug J. L. Williams, J. H. Norton is plaintiff's attorney.

MR. TOWNE'S SPEECH.

That interest in the money question is not declining and that the cause of bimetalism is steadily growing in favor was made evident by the large and splendid audience which gathered at the Temple Opera house last night to listen to Congressman Towne's address upon that subject. It was a representative gathering of Duluth's citizens, embracing men in all walks of life and a good sized number of ladies. Mr. Towne appeared in the speaker's argument, the frequent applause which greeted some telling point made by Mr. Towne in favor of bimetalism or in denunciation of the single gold standard and its attendant train of evils, showed unmistakably that nearly every person present was thoroughly in accord with the speaker's view of the question.

The illustrations of some of the arguments by large, clearly printed charts was a novel feature that pleased the audience greatly and at the same time made it much more interesting. Towne made it much more interesting by the charts which he pointed out to the audience upon his hearers. It was a happy idea on Mr. Towne's part, and served to relieve the necessary monotony of the statistical portion of the speech. It is also probable that the lessons conveyed by the striking illustrations upon the charts were impressed indelibly upon the memory of those who studied them. In publishing Mr. Towne's speech in its entirety in today's issue, it has been the intention of The Herald to reproduce all these charts, but by some mistake on the part of the engraver, only two of them were received in time for publication today. These are Charts D and E, which speak eloquently of the effects of silver demonetization in increasing the divergence between the commercial value of gold and silver, and how the bimetallic system maintains the parity of gold and silver for many years with but slight variations.

The Herald invites the attention of its readers to the exhaustive argument made by Mr. Towne in favor of bimetalism and particularly to the able demonstration of this country's ability to adopt and maintain bimetalism without the co-operation of the European countries. No one can read this speech without being convinced of the justice of the claims of the bimetalists and being impressed with the great strength of the argument that, failing an international agreement, the United States must independently cut the Gordian knot and loosen the grasp of the gold power.

DULUTH'S POPULATION.

The report that the state census will show the population of Duluth to be 32,646 is rather disappointing to many people who have expected to see this city make a better showing. There is no doubt that the population of Duluth is much greater than the figures given, and it may be that the official bulletin from the census bureau will show that we have more people than the forecast indicates. The Herald believes that Duluth has more than 60,000 people residing within its limits, and the census figures will not change its belief. The enumeration was not taken with sufficient care to ensure a full count. The whole system under which the census was taken was wrong. There was not sufficient allowed to secure a complete census, and the miserable pay which the enumerators received did not encourage them to make any special efforts to secure the names of all those living in their districts.

And yet a gain of 25 per cent in five years, as the figures now given would indicate, is a record of which Duluth can properly boast. There is no other city in the Northwest that show so large a percentage of gain. Even the outspokenly hostile denunciations of the Twin Cities do not exhibit such a splendid increase. According to the federal census of 1890, Duluth's rank in the list of cities of the United States, in respect to population, was ninety-second. By the reported state count, which only gives 32,646, Duluth claims to rank about the fifty-fifth, passing such places as Augusta, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Covington, Ky.; Dallas, Tex.; Des Moines, Iowa; Elizabeth, N. J.; Erie, Pa.; Evansville, Ind.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Harrisburg, Pa.; Hoboken, N. J.; Holyoke, Mass.; Kansas City, Kan.; Lawrence, Mass.; Los Angeles, Cal.; Manchester, N. H.; New Bedford, Mass.; Norfolk, Va.; Oakland, Cal.; Peoria, Ill.; Portland, Me.; Portland, Ore.; Saginaw, Mich.; St. Joseph, Mo.; Salt Lake, Utah; San Antonio, Tex.; Savannah, Ga.; Seattle, Wash.; Sioux City, Iowa; Somerville, Mass.; Springfield, Mass.; Tacoma, Wash.; Utica, N. Y.; Wheeling, W. Va.; Wilkesbarre, Pa.; and Youngstown, Ohio.

This is a record of which every resident of Duluth has just cause to feel proud, even if the figures do not reach his reasonable anticipations. It shows that Duluth is advancing at a rate greater than that of any other city in the West. The federal census of 1900 will indicate a still greater gain.

A LESSON AND THE REMEDY.

Washington dispatches announce that the gold reserve in the treasury has been maintained above the $100,000,000 limit by the deposit of gold by the Belmont-Rothschild syndicate, and New York dispatches say that the Wall Street money-lenders breathe easier because of this evidence of the syndicate's determination to keep its agreement to produce gold in order to get enough gold to keep the treasury up to Oct. 1. But they say nothing about what is going to happen after that date. They are silent as to the probabilities when the syndicate will withdraw its support and the poor government must rely upon itself. What will result? Must the government then issue more bonds to the syndicate in order to get enough gold to keep the reserve intact?

There is a great lesson for the American people in this state of things. The power that can preserve can also destroy, and the gold syndicate which is now holding up the national treasury has also the power and the ability to destroy it. The Belmont-Rothschild syndicate has the treasury of the United States at its mercy. If inclined to do so, it could force this country to contribute several more millions to the syndicate's profits in order to secure the necessary gold to maintain the reserve. How can we tell when this inclination may seize the members of the syndicate? How can we tell when the gold syndicate may not demand its pound of flesh?

The situation of this great nation is pitiful indeed. A grandiose, wealthy and powerful in natural resources and inhabited by a progressive and intelligent people, at the mercy of a few money-lenders in New York and London! Is it not enough to arouse the indignation of the whole country that such a state of things exist?

In a letter to a Minneapolis paper, Judge John P. Rea regards this farming out of the treasury without an indignant protest from every hamlet of the land as indicating "a decadent and that servile and ignominious honor that in the past characterized American citizenship." And then he relates the following incident: "In the very gloomiest hour of the rebellion, when, added to the reverses which for a period followed, the army upon the land, the private Alabama was obtained an interview with President Lincoln. He listened attentively to their proposal, and when they had finished, rose in the dignity of his majesty the American manhood and answered: 'We are in the throes of a desperate contest for national life, which at times looks almost hopeless. The government needs every possible assistance within its reach. But desperate as their struggle is, the American people would never consent that I should farm out to private parties any of the functions of the government, and in their name I decline your offer.'

"That was before the 'gold-ring,' entrenched in power by twenty-two years of legislation, as it now is, was able to dictate its own terms as conditions under which the government may exercise its governing functions. As long as 'gold monometallism' exists, so long the syndicate can corner all the redemption money we possess in any twenty-four hours, and not only rob the masses of their wealth, but control their government as well. There is but one avenue of relief—but one vista through which hope comes, and that is in the restoration of silver to the place it occupied in our financial system before 1873, and the return, not to 'sound,' but to 'honest' money."

Who will deny that Judge Rea and all other bimetalists who agree with him are right? The nation's only hope lies in the early and complete restoration of bimetalism such as we enjoyed up to 1873.

The Rev. Dr. Boole, a Methodist preacher who thought that John Peter St. John wasn't having a fair show in the debate with Governor Thayer on St. John's Island, grew excited, called on other men a liar and got knocked down for being too gay. It is curious, says the Kansas City Star, how temperate these prohibitionists are about everything but whisky.

The Herald is the only Duluth paper that publishes a complete report of Mr. Towne's speech on bimetalism. Even the Twin City papers today gave a better report of it than the alleged newspaper published in Duluth this morning. And the Associated Press sent a good report of it to all the leading papers of the country last night.

UTILIZING WATERPOWER.

A dispatch from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., states that a syndicate of Philadelphia capitalists has purchased the water power canal there and will at once develop power for paper and other mills. This should direct the attention of the people of Duluth to the necessity of giving every encouragement possible to those who are seeking to utilize the great water power that is found within easy distance of this city. If the plans of the Minnesota Canal company were carried out, as there is every indication they will be when all legal obstacles are removed, Duluth would become a great manufacturing center, because of the great and cheap power which would be furnished. We get quickly other places will gain industrial establishments that would be located here. Every flour mill or pulp mill established at the Sault means one less here. If such industries find it profitable to locate at the Sault because of the cheap power to be obtained, how much more profitable it would be to locate at Duluth, with an infinitely more advantageous geographical position, and with a greater and cheaper water power?

But Duluth will never move forward in the manufacturing line so long as those who design to get the night-long water power are obstructed and opposed by those who should be glad to lend them a helping hand. It should be the aim of every person who has the welfare of Duluth at heart to encourage in every possible way the development of the water power that nature has provided.

Ask your neighbor who talks about commercial values of gold and silver, "what fixes the commercial value of gold?" Pin him down to the fact that the price of gold is fixed by the law of England at $135.20 per ounce, 919 2/3 to 1000 fine, and at $138.00 per ounce, nine-tenths fine, by the law of the United States.

The government crop report indicates that the United States will raise 2,500,000,000 bushels of corn this year, which is more than twice the amount raised last year. The big crops mean renewed prosperity for the farmers, and when the farmers are prosperous the whole country feels the beneficial effects.

DIAZ SAYS "NO FIGHT."

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 15.—M. McLean, of Chicago, who came here to see what arrangements could be made to have the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight come off in El Paso, Mex., in case it was stopped at Dallas, Tex., received a telegram from Joe Thompson, stating that President Diaz would not allow the fight to take place in Mexico. Smith, a pugilist of this city, has been sent down to the City of Mexico to give a boxing contest with Jimmy Corbett before President Diaz's visit to show them the sport is not brutal.

My little boy, when 2 years of age, was taken with a very bad cold. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as strong and as well as ever. I feel sure it saved his life. I never can praise the Remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how good it is as I do.—Mrs. Lina S. Hinton, Grahamsville, Marion county, Fla. For sale by all druggists.

THE ROUNDUP.

There was an interesting occurrence on the top floor of a certain hotel a few days ago which has caused a good deal of merriment among the initiated, and also much confusion among the principals. A pair of trousers was at the bottom of the affair.

There had been two young men rooming together on the top floor who had adopted socialist principles to the extent of sharing their clothes and other possessions in common. Last Monday one of the twain left early in the morning for St. Paul, where he was to attend a wedding. When he packed his grip in the morning he put in his friend's best trousers without bothering to wake the sleeping man. Then he departed for the station.

When the sleeper awoke there was a condition confronting him. He owned but the two pairs of trousers, and his everyday pair had been taken to the dry-house Saturday. He rang the bell and ate his breakfast in bed. The bell boy was dispatched to the dry-house where, by the mere chance, operations had not commenced on the garments. The victim tried to keep the matter a secret by bribing the bell boy, but it leaked out.

The latest advertising scheme made its appearance in Duluth yesterday in the shape of a bald-headed man. He excited a good deal of interest on Superior street, where he walked along bare headed, regardless of the hot sun, which beat down on his bald and shiny pate, and threw his reflections around promiscuously.

It was not the baldness, though, that drew the crowd of archers, who followed the man. Right across the top of his head was stamped in purple ink, "Smoke"—clears. The originality of the idea took, and the smooth, brainy subject succeeded in leaving a goodly quantity of his goods with the local dealers before he went back to St. Paul.

"I have been in this business for three years," he said to the Roundup. "I am making more money than I could in any other way. I am the originator of the bald-head idea, and get well paid for my thorough knowledge of the subject. I have a dozen boxes. My contract reads that the inscription must not be removed, and I have to the theater or to church. That is the only draw back."

MILLING OUTPUT.

Decrease Observed in the Week's Manufacture.

Minneapolis, Aug. 15.—The North-western Miller gives the following estimate of the week's milling news: The flour output at Minneapolis was 176,475 bushels against 192,065 barrels last week, 173,010 barrels the same week in 1894 and 177,365 barrels the same week in 1893. Water power is considerably better and the output this week may reach 220,000 barrels. A sales of flour last week amounted to 240,000 barrels. With some firms export business has considerably over-shadowed domestic, and patent was mostly work.

The bulk of it was for the United Kingdom. Low prices had been accepted. Foreigners show interest, and at present prices wheat to remain steady for a short time, they would probably take hold freely. Clear is bid for, but with millers sold ahead and holding prices relatively higher than on patent, the importer is induced to turn his attention to the latter.

An occasional offer is made for second clear and red dog, such figures usually being around 125 to 135 for the former and 125 to 135 for the latter. Quotations for London, C. I. F. terms are: Patent, 21s 6d; 21s 6d per 480 pounds. Clear, 17s 18s 2d. There was no snap about the domestic trade. Patents are 5c or more lower.

Bulk feed, particularly bran, is freely. Export shipments flour are 56-180 barrels against 50,470 the week before, 27,000 in 1894 and 27,500 in 1893.

"DARKEST AMERICA."
Al G. Field's "Darkest America" drew a crowded house at the Lyceum last night. The show is an ordinary minstrel company, with an ordinary first night. In which Billy Jackson, Harry Fiddler, John Rucker and Adolph Henderson were the end men and Edwin Winn acted as interlocutor. This part of the show is inclined to be stale, to say the least, as it does not depart the slightest from the first part which has grown familiar to theatergoers from years of experience. The same remarks might be made to apply to many of the jokes. The singing is not good, but several of the performers are fairly good. Billy Jackson has a smile that is contagious, but his jokes and songs are vulgar even for a minstrel. Harry Fiddler's India rubber mouth and his character imitations were good, and he has a peculiarly good voice. Edwin Winn's secular acrobatic specialty was excellent. F. W. Simpson put lots of expression into a slide trombone solo, and Andy Williams, the human frog, twisted himself into knots satisfactorily.

MCKANLASS CONCERT.
Tonight the McKanlass concert for the benefit of the McKanlass Military fund will be given at the Temple. The San Francisco Chronicle says:
"It was our good fortune and delight to attend one of his entertainments at the Standard theater on the evening of Aug. 11. His program was excellent, claims much for him, but we are free to acknowledge that McKanlass surpasses himself in this. He certainly has a must agree that he is the most natural, versatile, educated and refined artist who has ever had the pleasure to see and execute and listen to in San Francisco. An artist of whom his fellow-citizens throughout the United States should be proud."

RETURN OF THE WILBURS.
The Wilburs, who are now playing in Superior, will open in Duluth on Sunday evening at the Lyceum. On Monday afternoon the management will give a ladies' matinee, at which ladies only will be admitted and no seats will be sold. All ladies will be free, and all men, even small boys, are barred.

This feature will be quite as prominent this year, as usual. MALONE LEADS.
The first of the pool contest between J. J. Malone and C. M. Alkin resulted in a victory for the former by a margin of 24 last night, Malone making his 100 balls while Alkin was running down 66. The play was interesting and it was attended by a good crowd.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

Cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

There are plenty of pile cures which give relief and sometimes cure a mild case of piles, but there is only one which can be depended upon with certainty to cure obstinate, long-standing cases, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure.

Endorsements and testimonials are received daily from men and women whose integrity and reliability are above question, and in this connection a letter received from the Rev. James H. Westbrook, of Bowne, Mich., may be of interest to pile sufferers who have sought in vain for a cure. He says: "I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and I know that it is all that is claimed for it. I have been troubled with piles more or less for about eighteen years, and I had tried other remedies, but the piles grew worse until about ten months ago I used the Pyramid Pile Cure. It gave almost instant relief and I have been free from piles ever since. Rev. James H. Westbrook.

The remedy seems to act equally well in every form of piles, blind bleeding, protruding or itching. It stops all pain almost immediately, allays irritation and removes constipation, and anyone who has suffered the annoyance and pain of a rectal trouble will appreciate the excellent results which invariably follow the first application of the Pyramid.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug company, of Albion, Mich., and for sale by druggists everywhere. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1. Sold by all druggists.

Congressman Kiefer, of St. Paul, is interested in Duluth's Affairs.

Congressman A. R. Kiefer, of St. Paul, arrived in the city this morning and registered at the Spaulding.

"I am only here to attend to a few business matters," said Mr. Kiefer to a Herald representative. "I shall return on the night train this evening."

"I am always interested in Duluth and every time I come up I think of when I first knew the town years ago when swamps and hills were more numerous than people."

"The reports I am receiving from the city are for the most part encouraging and although I have no official knowledge yet I am assured that the plan is feasible."

"The engineers are now working in the vicinity of Brule."

"I am a great admirer of your congressman," A. Towne, and think he is one of the brightest members of the Fifty-fourth congress. "I do not exactly coincide with his views on the monetary question, however, as I believe that in order to make the free-coinage of silver a certainty we should have an international agreement. Any action of the United States to solve the problem would be unwise."

"WANTS LIBERAL APPROPRIATIONS."

"In one thing, however, I fully agree with Mr. Towne and that is that Duluth should have a liberal appropriation for the improvement of her harbor. I do not feel that I represent the Fourth district of Minnesota alone but the whole Northwest. In every way that your harbor is improved the whole Northwest is likewise benefited. I shall do everything in my power to secure a liberal share of the river and harbor appropriation."

"The outlook in the vicinity of St. Paul is a great deal brighter. Money is easier and both wholesalers and retailers are feeling happier. A good part of our unemployed labor is now at work in the wheat fields. I believe we are entering on an era of good times and that the same conditions will apply to the whole Northwest."

BANKERS TO BE TRIED.
Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 15.—The National Bank of Commerce has begun an action in equity in the federal court against F. M. Wade, J. C. Wetherill and A. F. McLain, who were formerly, respectively, of the bank. They are charged with incompetency and neglect, whereby the bank's capital was impaired to the amount of more than $75,000 and with infraction of the national banking law in making notes exceeding $5,000. The court is asked for an order requiring the defendants to testify regarding this alleged transaction to the end that they may be held personally accountable.

UNEXPECTED VERDICT.
Grand Haven, Mich., Aug. 15.—At 11:15 last night a verdict of murder in the first degree was returned against George

EQUATOR

Revolution in That Country is Turning Out Quite Serious.

Alfaro is at Guayaquil With a Large and Well Armed Force.

The Uprising is Principally Confined to the Poorer Classes.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The impression prevails in both the state and navy departments that the revolution in Ecuador will be quite a serious affair before the internal troubles there are settled. No advice has been received concerning recent engagements. The state department has received from Minister Tillman, at Quito, a dispatch dated July 20, which shows what the situation was then. In it Minister Tillman says that there are no indications of an early settlement of the complicated political conditions of the country.

Alfaro, who reached Guayaquil on June 12 or 13, was still there with an armed force, amounting, as claimed by his friends, to 4000 men. The government force at Quito was estimated at 2000, which it was thought might be increased to 4000. The situation between the western and eastern ranges of mountains was controlled at the time of Mr. Tillman's writing by the small army of the conservatives, Gen. Saragata, with 1000 men, was at Guayaquil, 100 miles northwest of Quito, near the main road to Guayaquil. The government forces had captured fifty or sixty men from the force of Quito, who in company with 200 others, were trying to pass to the south.

Bishop Shumacher, of Port Ixtova, with 250 men, was expected to arrive at Quito July 20. There was to be a procession in his honor and he was to be crowned by the archbishop with laurels and wreaths of flowers. It seems that he had donated a few hundred dollars to the cause of Alfaro. Alfaro's plans and his strength were not definitely known at Quito when Mr. Tillman wrote, but he says that he was admitted on all sides that his advance to the capital a few weeks before would have been successful.

Mr. Tillman adds that the strangest feature of the revolution is that, with the exception of a few officers or leaders, the armies are composed of the poorest of the population and that all dressed men take their daily walks and throng the plazas unmolested and seemingly wholly disinterested as to the result.

HUNT OR STARVE.

Agent Teter Says That is the Situation.

Green River, Wyo., Aug. 15.—Indian Agent Teter makes the following report to the commissioner of Indian affairs: "Certain Indians state they will go to Jackson Hole for the purpose of hunting as soon as the haying season is over, claiming they will starve during the coming winter if they do not hunt. They say they will not subsist, and that they have a right to hunt in Jackson Hole. In my opinion it is absolutely necessary to keep the Indians in the reservation. 'Even if they are justified in going to Jackson Hole, they will not be able to have revenge on the settlers, and will go prepared for that purpose, and place themselves in a position to be hunted by the settlers. The best solution I can present is to enter into the contract for the big ditch on the reservation as soon as possible, which will give the Indians employment and an opportunity to earn money with which to provide for themselves during the winter. The Indians must be given employment, or they cannot subsist without food obtained in hunting.'"

A STEAMER'S MISHAP.
Queenstown, Aug. 15.—A large passenger steamer on its way to the coast in the vicinity of Baltimore, to the east of this harbor, it was presumed to be a vessel from Liverpool or Southampton, although nothing definite is known. A dense fog is prevailing along the coast and the coast guard went to Baltimore, but found the steamer had been floated and proceeded on her journey. Her identity was not established.

WILL NOT BE CREEL.
Denver, Aug. 15.—Governor McIntyre has written to Cripple Creek for information regarding the advertised ball fight. Secretary Thompson, of the Humane society, received a letter from the agent of the society at Colorado Springs stating that the managers of the fight have announced that no cruelty to the bulls would be indulged in. The date to be used would be pointed with wax and not steel. Secretary Thompson states that the Humane society will not allow the fight to be held if it is possible to stop it.

EX-CONFEDERATE DIES.
Richmond, Va., Aug. 15.—Gen. John D. Imboden, the famous Confederate cavalry general died yesterday at Abingdon. He was a native of Virginia county, and a graduate of the Virginia military institute. At the beginning of the civil war he joined a company and entered the Confederate army. He rose rapidly to the command of a cavalry brigade. After the war he engaged largely in mining and railroad enterprises. He was 72 years old and had been married four times. His last wife has several children who survive him.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE.
Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 15.—An appeal to the supreme court has stayed the execution of Rose Barton, who was found guilty of the murder of Charles Brown, colored, last January, at Murfreesboro. The case will be heard by the supreme court in December.

SILVER CONFERENCE.

White Metal Democrats Leaving for Home.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The executive committee of the Democratic silver conference, met at the Metropolitan hotel today and decided not to attempt to complete the national committee for the present. The postponement was rendered necessary by the fact that the committee had received names only from the states represented at the conference. They adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Col. Young said today that it was the purpose of the executive committee to complete the national organization as soon as practicable. It is probable that the meeting for the announcement of this committee will be held in some Western city and St. Louis has been suggested. It is also expected that permanent headquarters will be chosen at this meeting.

There is some division of opinion as to where the headquarters should be. Several members of the committee think of Washington, others of St. Louis in favor of some Western city. A large majority of the delegates to the conference have left for their homes.

RACE A FAILURE.

Two Yachts Run Aground on Light Wind.

Ryde, Isle of Wight, Aug. 15.—The annual race around the Isle of Wight, under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht club, for the Commodore's cup, for two classes, one exceeding and one not exceeding seventy rating, the second prize, 40, to go to a yacht in different class than the winner, was sailed today. The Alisa, the Britannia, the Heister, the Carina, the forty rated, the Isolda, the Corsair, the Niagara, and the twenty rated, the Isolda, started.

After a larger yacht was soon away ahead of the smaller competitors. The Niagara, soon after starting, grounded on a sand bank and assistance was sent to her as the tide was receding. The Niagara remained aground for about half an hour, after which she was floated and returned to her anchorage. It is not known whether she sustained any damages of a serious nature. Capt. Barr said the Niagara was not injured. She was windward and leeward when she struck a hard bump. Her boom was swung over and everything possible was done, but without success, to get her off in time to resume racing. The sand bar, it appears, rises almost every day and has been the scene of many disasters.

The race eventually turned out to be a fiasco owing to the adverse and light wind. The Britannia abandoned the attempt to round the Isle of Wight and went back to the harbor. The Isolda remained fast ashore. In spite of the efforts to float her, and the coast guard, she was compelled to go to her assistance. The other yachts not being able to make any headway, anchored in the harbor. The Corsair also ran aground.

TENNIS CHAMPIONS.

Selecting Players for the National Contests.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 15.—The match in doubles between Neel Brothers and Wrenn and Chase to decide which team shall meet Hobart and Flower in the contest for the national championship in doubles at Newport next week, attracted a large crowd to the Casino grounds this forenoon. In the first set Sam Neel played good tennis, but his brother was rather slow. Wrenn and Chase were quick and accurate. The second set, Carl L. Neel was evidently very much affected by the heat and his playing was decidedly ragged. Wrenn and Chase took the set 6-4.

After a rest Carl Neel came on the court in much better form and the playing of the brothers in the next set was much stronger and their opponents were unable to get even a game. Neel brothers won 6-6. The fourth and final set was easily won by Wrenn and Chase 6-2. Later this afternoon, the semi-finals in singles were played. Howard and Joseph Clark, of New York, defeated Fred and Joseph Clark, of New York, 6-4. The final in singles will be played tomorrow.

PROHIBITION INTO THE CAUSE.
New York, Aug. 15.—The latest in the case of the men who lost their lives in the collapsed building at West Broadway and West Street was opened today before Coroner Fitzpatrick and a jury of experts. Coroner Fitzpatrick is conducting an investigation into the cause of the disaster shall be thorough. At present there are three men charged with the responsibility. They are: John H. Parker, the builder; Jafford E. Silcock, the architect; and Joseph Gilder, who had the contract for plastering.

NO PROTEST RECEIVED.
Washington, Aug. 15.—The protest which the English bicyclists arrested at Colorado say they are going to make has not arrived at the state department, and it should be received it is probable that the department would take no action in a case where a municipality had punished any one for violating a police regulation. American bicyclists frequently are arrested in England for violation of local police regulations.

FOREIGN FLAGS BARRED.
Washington, Aug. 15.—Consul General Williams, at Havana, has sent to the state department a copy of the Decree of La Marina, containing a paragraph stating that the general government has issued a circular to the provincial governors of the island prohibiting the hoisting of any foreign flag on private buildings, commercial establishment or theaters without previous authorization.

KENTUCKY PLEASANTRIES.
Middleboro, Ky., Aug. 15.—In a battle between a creek, near Harlan county line, over the possession of a tract of land, W. L. Black was shot and killed by John Hilton and Leonard Caldwell were shot in the arm. Skirmishes have been frequent between the sixteen of the creek, but this was the first pitched battle. Another is likely to occur at any hour.

COTTON BELT ACCIDENT.
St. Louis, Aug. 15.—The engine and baggage car of the north-bound passenger train on the Cotton Belt railroad was derailed last night at Stamps, near Genoa, Ark., and the engine and train were seriously and perhaps fatally injured. No further particulars are known.

Northern Pacific Earnings
Now Are More Than His Guarantee.

General Opinion That the Deal is Virtually a Dead Issue.

St. Paul, Aug. 15.—The belief that the Northern Pacific-Great Northern consolidation is a dead issue continues, says the Dispatch. A well-known railroad said this morning:

"I don't think that the deal will go through, because the guarantee put up by J. J. Hill is merely a case of guaranteeing a cinch. He guarantees no more than the Northern Pacific is now earning, nor as much, if I remember aright, and those Deutsche bank people are too cunning to allow him to take the property under such circumstances when there is nothing more than that in it for them. You can bank on it that the deal will never go through."

T. F. Oakes is quoted as saying that the Northern Pacific should not be taken out of the hands of receivers for another year yet, when its net earnings will be at least $5,000,000. They are now $2,200,000, and Mr. Oakes is confident that the next fiscal year will show the former figures. That, however, will not interfere with any plan of reorganization, as he is in no hurry. So long as Haydon Ives or J. J. Hill does not get the property, he will be satisfied.

RESTRICTION STANDS.

Parliament Considers an Important Canadian Question.

London, Aug. 15.—A question of great interest to Canada was asked in the house of commons today by Mr. Price, who inquired if the government was aware that the present exclusion of Canadian cattle had caused and was causing severe loss in some of the agricultural districts, and whether the restriction can be removed.

The president of the board of agriculture, Walter Long, replied, saying that as late as July 10 cases of cattle suffering from pleuro pneumonia had been found among the carcasses coming from Canada, and the government in consequence must maintain the restriction placed upon such cattle. Mr. Long added that the government was communicating with the government of Canada on the subject.

The under secretary of the foreign office, George S. Curzon, replying to a question put by Edward Carson, said that the government had not deemed it advisable to raise the question of monetary compensation for the relative of the victims of the Chinese massacres until the culprits had been punished.

DOES NOT LIKE IT.

Attorney General Maloney of Illinois is Displeased.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Attorney General Maloney returned to the city today from his vacation and announced that he would take up an investigation of the American Safety Manufacturing company, the successor to the old whisky trust. Ex-Judge Moran, counsel for the reorganization, has asked the attorney general to hear arguments on the status of the new company, and this privilege has been accorded.

"So far as I am at present advised," said the attorney general, "I do not understand that even a United States court can make legal in Illinois what the supreme court of Illinois has declared illegal, and I am free to say that I do not look upon the new concern with favor."

ST. CLOUD'S STREET RAILWAY.
St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 15.—The bond of E. J. Clark, receiver for the St. Cloud Electric Street Railway company, was signed this morning. The next step will be for the receiver to demand possession of the system from the present superintendent, C. S. Benson. It is understood that an interesting case is promised and that local stockholders will make an effort to guard their interests in the line. It will be remembered that George Thibault bought a title to the West Side line some time ago, and the validity of his title will in all probability be tested.

BLACKBURN'S CHANCES.
Cincinnati, Aug. 15.—A special from Frankfort, Ky., says the returns today show that Senator Blackburn has enough pledges to secure his re-election, provided the counties and districts heretofore carried by the Democrats give their usual results. Many of those pledged to Blackburn are opposed to his re-election, and his opponents claim that a majority of the Democratic nominees for the legislature will sound money men and when the time comes for the election of senators Blackburn may find the situation changed.

ALLEGED INFINGEMENTS.
Chicago, Aug. 15.—The McCormick Harvesting Machine company has begun litigation over the alleged infringement of a patent which will extend to eighteen of twenty states. Suits have already been brought against companies at Woodstock, Ottawa and Elgin, Ill., and others will follow. The patent in question is on a corn harvester.

PROFESSOR CURRIEL'S ADVANCE.

Lexington, Aug. 15.—Professor William Spencer Curriel, professor of English at Davidson college, N. C., has been elected to fill the chair of modern languages and English in Washington and Lee university.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH
Entered at the postoffice at Duluth, Minn., as second-class matter.

HERALD'S CIRCULATION.

HIGH-WATER MARK

THE WEATHER.

U. S. Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Minn., Aug. 16.—The weather has been generally clear, except light showers in Tennessee. There has been a general decided rise in temperature in the Dakotas and Minnesota and the weather has become somewhat cooler north of Montana. At Minneapolis yesterday the temperature rose to 88.
The barometric depression moving southeast over the Dakotas and Minnesota has diminished in energy.
Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 66; maximum yesterday, 75; minimum yesterday, 56.
Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity: till 7 p. m. tomorrow; fresh northwest wind, 10 to 15 miles per hour; light showers; warmer with fresh south wind, 15 to 20 miles per hour; with winds becoming northeast.

JAMES KENEALY,
Local Forecast Official.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Forecast until 8 a. m. tomorrow: Partly cloudy; showers; cooler by Saturday evening; fresh northwest wind, 10 to 15 miles per hour; with showers, followed by cooler weather Saturday, winds shifting to northwest tonight.
Depth of water over inter sill in St. Mary's ship canal 16 to 2 inches and it will remain stationary. Upper lakes: Partly cloudy, possibly followed by showers; fresh southeast wind, shifting to northwest over Lake Superior Saturday. The temperature has risen from 10 to 15 degrees from Western Wisconsin over Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota and has fallen 15 degrees in the region north of Montana.

DULUTH'S GREAT GROWTH.

The announcement in The Herald last evening that the official bulletin of the census bureau showed the population of Duluth to be 29,366 was received with pleasure by the people who had been rather disappointed by the report of the previous day that the official figures would be a little less than 25,000. As The Herald pointed out editorially, this was only a guess by St. Paul paper, and great as was the disappointment, it indicated the official figures are even more gratifying. A population in round figures of 30,000 is something of which every resident of Duluth can feel proud. There is no city in the country which has made such a heavy gain in population during the past five years. An increase of 79 per cent may be considered almost phenomenal. The federal census of 1890 placed Duluth's population at 33,115. The state census now fixes it at 29,366. This shows an increase of 26,281 in five years. The census figures for St. Paul and Minneapolis have not been made public yet, but it is well known that their increase will not exceed 10 per cent, and this increase has been secured only by outrageous padding of the census returns. It is safe to say that there is not one name on the Duluth returns that does not properly belong there, while it is well known that many people were not enumerated at all.

By being officially credited with a population of 29,366, Duluth steps into the forty-seventh place among the cities of the United States, now exceeding in size (in addition to the places mentioned yesterday) the cities of Reading, Pa.; Camden, N. J.; Charleston, S. C.; Hartford, Conn.; Lincoln, Neb.; Lynn, Mass., and Trenton, N. J., and approaching very closely to Troy, N. Y.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Dayton, Ohio, and Wilmington, Del. When the federal census of 1900 is taken, Duluth will jump to a much higher rank among the leading cities of the Union.

GOLDBUG BRIBERY.

In the St. Paul Pioneer Press of yesterday appeared the following dispatch from Findlay, O.: "The correspondent of the Columbus State Journal, who is a member of the Democratic executive committee of Hancock county, telegraphs that paper tonight, upon the authority of Democratic county officials, that Senator Brice pledged $500 to the campaign fund of Hancock county provided 'sound money' Brice delegates were chosen to the state convention and Brice men nominated for the legislature. The conditions were complied with."

When the Ohio Democratic state convention meets and passes resolutions in support of the single gold standard, the Pioneer Press will not doubt have another lengthy article on the "great victory" won by "sound money" in Ohio and on the decline of "the silver craze," which is the false application which it always applies to the movement in behalf of genuine bimetalism. It will undoubtedly assert that the Ohio Democratic party has set the stamp of its disapproval upon the silver cause and declared in favor of an "honest dollar."

When the convention is held and the Pioneer Press begins to boast, The Herald trusts its readers will not forget the contents of the Findlay dispatch. It shows how the "victories" for "sound money" and "honest money" are won by the goldbugs. It shows that the state conventions are being packed with goldbug delegates by the means of wholesale bribery. Mr. Brice offered $500 for goldbug delegates from Hancock county and the offer was accepted, and the delegates he desired were chosen. If this is not a plain case of bribery, what is it? But it is the only way that the gold monometallists can get control of the conventions. A full, free and honest expression of public opinion at the primaries of either the Democratic or the Republican principle in any state in the West would result in the selection of delegates favorable to the cause of genuine bimetalism—the free coinage of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1.

Bribery may for a time defeat the will of the people, but there is an awful day of reckoning coming for those who are engaged in it. Right will prevail finally and justice will triumph at last. Bimetalism will win in the end, and the goldbug corruptionists will be given their deserts.

CONSISTENCY AND OTHER THINGS.

The Minneapolis papers have started on a discussion of Mr. Towne and his financial views. The Tribune accuses him of inconsistency because in August, 1898, he made a speech opposing the free coinage of silver by this country independently of other nations. It expresses the opinion that it "furnishes prima facie evidence that when his constituents elected him, to congress in 1894 they imagined that they were electing a sound money advocate." They did so imagine and they were not deceived, because Mr. Towne is today an advocate of sound money—the circulation of gold and silver as money upon equal terms, one money of one value and one potency. But even from the viewpoint of the Tribune takes of sound money question, Mr. Towne's position was not misrepresented by his constituents previous to election. If the Tribune will read the Sixth district Republican platform upon which Mr. Towne was elected and if it will read the resolutions of the speeches which he delivered throughout the district, it will quickly perceive that every one should have thoroughly understood Mr. Towne's attitude, and The Herald believes that they did understand it. Before the resolutions were presented to the Republican convention Mr. Towne explained his views to the committee.

So much for that portion of the Tribune's article. As to the charge of inconsistency, the Minneapolis Journal makes a reply that fits the case exactly. It says: "Some of our contemporaries are accusing Congressman Towne of inconsistency because his recently expressed financial views do not agree with those uttered by him two years ago. Two years is a good while and long enough for a man to change his opinion and do it honestly. Consistency is a valuable characteristic, but its value is sometimes overrated." The Journal, however, has a little grievance of its own. It recalls an interview previous to the Republican league convention in which Mr. Towne expressed the opinion that the convention should refrain from an expression on the silver question and refer it to the national convention. The Journal now asks, "is it entirely consistent or fair for Mr. Towne to seek to anticipate the action of the regular Republican conventions himself, and by agitation in one way or another, including a proposition to hold a Republican silver convention in Minnesota, seek to forestall authorized Republican declaration on the financial question?" Mr. Towne is a fair man and we think the question can be safely left with him. The Journal may also intend to be fair in this matter, but it entirely misrepresents the situation.

The suggestion that the league convention should say nothing on the silver question and the subsequent decision of the convention to follow this suggestion were the result of a widespread belief that any resolutions adopted by that convention might be used by the party to a certain extent, while the convention itself was not fairly representative of the entire Republican party. There are many thousands of Republicans in the United States, there are thousands in Minnesota, who do not believe in the silver question, and it would therefore be unfair to bind them in any way by the decision of a convention in which they were not represented. This was the main reason that there was opposition to the Cleveland convention taking action on the silver question. As to the right of Mr. Towne or any other Republican to now discuss the money question, to express their individual views, and to unite to form clubs or to hold a state convention, there can be no doubt. There is nothing in the principles of the Republican party which forbids a man or any number of men from thinking or expressing their thoughts, although from the remarks of some Republican newspapers in the Twin Cities one would almost imagine that it was a heinous crime to do any independent thinking upon public questions.

It is the duty of every citizen, of every good Republican, to study and discuss the leading questions of the day and to express any opinions that he may form, and if he believes that it is to the interest of the country it is his duty as well as his privilege to endeavor to convert others to his way of thinking. And this is all that Mr. Towne and other Republican bimetalists are doing. Who can honestly assert that they are either inconsistent or unfair?

The Madisonville (Ky.) Hustler says that Kentucky, so far as heard from, had only five killings last Sunday. Bad whiskey and a loaded pistol furnished three of them, while love, jealousy and a pistol finished up the other two. In addition to this, a brutal husband at Henderson almost beat the life out of his wife, while in other sections of the state there were bruised heads, mashed faces and broken bones. Sunday is getting to be rather a dangerous day for Kentucky, says the St. Louis Star. Sayings. The state very badly needs a few first class hangings and a number of whipping post crosses.

"Gas" Addicks, who endeavored to be elected United States senator from Delaware and prolonged the deadlock in the legislature so that no one was elected, is reported to have sent a telegram to ex-Senator Washburn, of this state, demanding retraction for an alleged statement made by Washburn in a recent interview in which he said "that a man like Addicks is a pest in any community and ought to be killed." If Mr. Washburn said that, he uttered a truth which he should not retract. Politicians of the Addicks stamp are the curse of the country.

Civilization marches onward. Bishop Tugwell, of Western equatorial Africa, says that the natives are killing themselves with drink furnished to them by the Christian merchants of Europe in return for the native commodities. On the way to a certain town, he says, he was told that the whole town was drunk and he found it to be the case. "Legions of bottles," he says, "met my eyes on all sides; warehouses of prodigious size filled with intoxicating drinks; canoes heavily laden with demijohns of rum; the green boxes in which the gin is packed are here, there and everywhere."

Ex-Senator Reagan, of Texas, says of the president: "Cleveland has wrecked the Democratic party and has done more than any other living man to involve this country in almost hopeless financial difficulties. The Democracy of Texas will not have him for a third term, and will not support for a first term any one who advocates his policy." This is a strong statement but it very accurately represents the sentiment in the West.

Among the many signs of the improving times must be included the unusual activity in the renting of dwellings in New York city, which the Sun says has begun much earlier than usual. July having been remarkable for the number rented. The old custom at the metropolis of renting houses from May 1 has largely passed away, and the autumn is the season when the demand for them is now getting to be the most active. This year, however, the call for houses has been continuous for more than a month past.

Duluth's great increase in population is giving the Twin City paper lots of trouble. They are trying to explain how it happened, but they carefully avoid the correct reason—that Duluth is more favorably situated geographically than any other point in the Northwest for a great city and that the natural resources in the adjoining territory ensure its continued progress.

The fight over the Northern Pacific road is said to have assumed a triangular form. It is now stated that Mr. Oakes is working independently of the Hill-Adams combination and of the lives Adams to perfect a plan of reorganization, under which he will again be president and general manager. He is said to be receiving strong backing and may win out.

Some of the English telephone exchanges are introducing a little language of the call-bell. The bulb lights up when a call is made. Anything that will take the place of the nerve-wrecking bells will be welcomed.

The official census figures for St. Louis county are expected early next week. In 1890, the federal census gave the county a population of 44,862. The state census this year shows a population of about 75,000.

Now that the New York World has selected Mr. Condit for the vacancy in the supreme court, all that is necessary is for President Cleveland and the senate to confirm the appointment.

It is expected that Congressman Towne will be present when the Minneapolis bimetalists organize their club and will deliver an address.

Do not forget to let your Eastern correspondents know that the state census shows that Duluth has a population of 29,366.

"Congressman Towne's," Duluth speech," says the Minneapolis Penny Press, "voices Northwestern sentiment."

The Duluth census figures show that the center of population is about Seventh avenue west.

HOMEOPATHIC TREATMENT. Mental-idea leader. With a steadfastness of purpose worthy of a better cause, the Twin City dailies renew their allegiance to the money power each day, take a gold pill every night and come out and tell the world that the silver cause is dying out. Why not have the circulation of silver swear to it, once in a while and break the monotony? "My Cranium? Not a symptom!"

A "HOT" COMPARISON. Brainerd Tribune. Of course Mr. Cleveland would not accept a third term. He would decline it with the shrugging modesty with which a bull pup would decline a saucer of new milk.

TOWNE VS. TRIBUNE. St. James Journal. Since Congressman Towne wrote that scathing letter to the Minneapolis Tribune last week, that paper has been as busy as a bee expounding the congressman's Republicanism. He made some statements which the Tribune can't deny and would much rather not discuss. It's about time for the Tribune to cease parading itself as an exponent of Republicanism. The devil knows no more about it than the devil knows about holiness.

ORIENTAL CHOLERA. St. Petersburg, Aug. 16.—The Naves Vremu says that advices received here from Vladivostok announce that cholera in serious proportions prevails in China, Korea and the Island of Formosa. Several Russian war ships will shortly return to Cronstadt from the far East.

Bring your children to the turners' picnic and let them have a good time.

"Speaking of jokes," said a railroad man the other day, "here is a rich one in the old, but good nevertheless, which has been told me by a man who knows. Some years ago Conductor Frank Macomber of the Duluth & Iron Range road at Two Harbors became afflicted with a bad cold and he felt very badly and thought they would go fishing. They got a boat and started out, but the boat was so full of people that they could not row. They rowed around to Burlington bay where the same results—nary a bite. "On the way home, however, they spied a boy to a fisherman's net, and rowed up to it. Pulling up the net they found a gigantic trout, a salmon trout, ten feet in length, and the net and go and started home, trailing the fish at the end of a long line. "Pretty soon they came near the dock at which the boat was to be landed, and the fisherman who was slowly approaching the dock. "Don't row so d-d hard," yelled Macomber, "but let the fish go." "About that time the people on the dock began to get excited. "Lord, but he's a big one," said Macomber, who was making a great fuss, and then, when the boat reached where all could see, Macomber pulled in his line and hauled out a monster salmon trout, the biggest seen for some years—it weighed about eighteen pounds and put it in the boat. "Hurry up," he shouted to the people on the dock, "here is a whole crowd of these big fellows out there; maybe you can catch one with your net."

Curious Antecedents of a St. Louis Murderer.

St. Louis, Aug. 16.—As gleaned from Andrews, the self-confessed slayer of ex-Senator Peter Morison, a life has been wasted which should have been lived and rounded out in honor. "I come from no common stock," said he. "I am an American, descended from the old Knickerbocker tribe. My right name is not Andrews. My great-grandfather was Joseph Peter Van Tassel, of the old Van Tassel family, that first settled where New York now stands today. My ancestors came to this country from Holland when the country was a wilderness and they brought money and jewelry and learning with them. They were of the nobility that figure in the history of New York."

His grandfather's brother was the original Rip Van Winkle, and my grandfather was called the belle of Manhattan island. And further, it was only by the merest chance that I was a free man, for my parents, Cornelius Vanderbilt, the wife of the old commodore, the founder of the Vanderbilt wealth and family, Cornelius Vanderbilt at that time was a traveling trader along the rivers in New York state, and was a free man, but my parents, my mother, and my grandfather encouraged him, but one day he acted so offensively to my mother and insulted the family so grossly that my grandfather drove him from the house, warning him never to return."

READY TO SHUT DOWN. Detroit, Aug. 16.—A special to the News from Ishpeming, Mich., says the mine agents today announced that they have concluded to pull pumps and allow the workings to fill with water unless the men decide to return to work within the next five days. One of the agents this morning said that he thought they would have the mines in shape for a general shut down Tuesday or Wednesday next.

KNIGHT TEMPLARS-TO BOSTON. The Grand Comendary of Minnesota, escorted by commandaries from St. Paul, Duluth, etc., have selected "The Northwestern Line" as the official route of their pilgrimage to Boston. The special train will leave Aug. 22, stopping at Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Tickets will be on sale Aug. 19 to 24, inclusive, at one fare for the round trip, with a slight additional cost for variable routes returning. Extreme limit. For further information, call upon or address 165 West Superior street, Duluth, B. W. Summers, Agent.

ATLANTA AWARDS. President Gilman Has an Improved System.

Bar Harbor, Maine, Aug. 16.—President Daniel S. Gilman, who has accepted the position of president of the bureau of awards at the Atlanta fair, in an interview said that the work of formulating a system of awards and selecting the jurors is about completed. The vigorous protests by foreign exhibitors against the awards made at the previous American expositions has attracted much interest as to the probable results of Dr. Gilman's careful study of this whole question.

At Paris, Vienna and other continental expositions, the jury system, Dr. Gilman explained, uniformly prevailed; that is for each group of exhibits, a jury acting as a unit compared the relative merits and bestowed medals and diplomas of very many different grades according to the degree of excellence manifested. At Chicago, he said, the jury, as a body, was practically ignored and individual jurors had supreme authority in making the awards. This award was simply a souvenir medal uniform for everybody. This was the only distinction conferred except the language of the individual jurors' report, which, in abbreviated form found place on the diploma.

The services of a large number of expert judges, selected from various parts of the country will be secured. "In these selections," President Gilman said, "I have made most thorough inquiry over the country for experts who are up to the ideal in every respect of practical knowledge in all the special lines involved, and although these include only the highest authorities, few have declined the invitation to serve. In the list which will be shortly announced will be found presidents of some of the most influential institutions of learning, men of world wide reputation as technologists, members of the national government, distinguished as contributors to the country's progress."

"The classification adopted by the exposition recognizes ten departments, namely: architecture, horticulture, agriculture, food and its accessories, machinery and its appliances, horticulture, viticulture, pomology, floriculture, etc., machinery, manufactures, electricity and electrical appliances, fine arts, painting, sculpture and decoration, liberal arts, education, literature, music and the drama, live stock, domestic and wild animals, fish, fisheries and fish culture, transportation."

"It is important," continues President Gilman, "to notice that the chairman of these jurists collectively with certain other persons to be hereafter chosen, will constitute the highest board of awards. The awards will be made in the name of the exposition, and in the name of individual judges. The awards will be graded. Four degrees of excellence will be recognized. In all these diplomas will be given."

A DYING OUTLAW. His Mind is Wandering Among Early Escapades.

Enid, Okla., Aug. 16.—Zipp Wyatt, the famous Oklahoma outlaw who was shot through the body by United States marshals in the battle which preceded his capture, now lies in jail here with little or no hope of his recovery. For the last two days and nights Wyatt's mind has seemed to leave him in intervals when in a half-dreamy way he imagines himself on the road again, holding up trains, and going through the many lawless scenes of his outlaw career.

He seems to think himself in command of train robbers and gives orders to the boys in a stern manner, cursing them when they do not obey orders. Zipp is sinking fast, not eating anything worth speaking of, and it will not be long until the noted bandit will be compelled to succumb to the inevitable and go over the river where many of his boys have gone before.

WANT THEM BOTH. Buffalo People Want the National Conventions.

New York, Aug. 16.—Buffalo citizens are here securing endorsements which it is hoped will bring both the Republican and Democratic national conventions to the city. The Erie county committee wanted the state committee to endorse their application at the recent meeting in this city, but that body simply referred it to National Committeeman William F. Sheahan. As he is a Buffalo man the cause will not suffer.

Buffalo people have already pledged $200,000 if one of the conventions is sent there, $200,000 to be used to build a hall capable of holding 25,000 persons, and the balance to be used for their entertainment.

PARLIAMENTARY COMPLEXION. New York, Aug. 16.—A special to the World from London says: A census of the parliament just assembled shows that only 190 out of 688 are new members. As to occupations 150 are lawyers, 54 are manufacturers, 88 are mechanics, 10 professors in universities, 11 journalists, 12 skilled laborers, 19 brewers, distillers and wine merchants, 46 army and navy officers in active service, 146 country, peers' sons and peers' brothers.

THE SHOE TRADE.

Boston Shoe Manufacturer Discusses the Outlook.

"There is a general betterment of trade conditions," said L. H. Foss, the Boston shoe manufacturer, to a Herald representative in the Spaulding rotunda.

"Nothing points more strongly to this fact than the unusual number of small retail stores that are being started especially in the Northwest and Mississippi valley. The factories are running at present on samples for the spring trade and orders are coming in which fully equal our expectations.

"There will be no radical change in styles or materials next spring. Tans will remain in vogue especially in the darker shades of russet. In men's shoes everything comes in balmain and the toes, while pointed, will not incline so much to the extreme. In ladies shoes broader toes will be worn. The opera and peccadilly toes have had their run and people seem anxious now to give their toes a chance to spread.

"A New England manufacturer of my acquaintance made a strenuous effort to get tan rubbers on the market and met with poor success. People seemed to regard them as a sort of fad. Now, however, he tells me he is receiving liberal orders for the spring.

"The leather market is firm and advancing and hides are at a higher price than they have been for years so in all probability by the time our output reaches the consumer prices will be away up.

the Water Line.

Was in Collision With the Iron Cliff in Mud
Lake.

The Lyon is Not Leaking and Will Proceed to Duluth.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—About 3 o'clock this morning while the steamer John B. Lyon, upbound with coal, was passing the can buoy in Mud lake, the Iron Cliff, with the Iron Cliff in tow, both upbound light, attempted to pass the Lyon. The section of the Iron Cliff caused the Lyon to sheer to the starboard, coming into collision with the Iron Cliff, which struck her amidships, causing her to roll on the starboard side and bulging her out on the port side.

As damage is all above the water line the Lyon is not leaking and will proceed to Duluth. The stem of the Iron Cliff damaged considerably, but still will proceed on her way.

MAKING BETTER TIME.
James J. Hill's big passenger boats are mending their pace. The North land got in at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, only an hour and a half late and left at 3 o'clock, on time. Her passenger list up was one of the largest yet carried, consisting in all of 429 names.

Among those from other places were Mrs. T. E. Dwyer and Misses Anna and Cora Dorr, of Saginaw; Bishop H. B. Whipple, of St. Paul; Rev. A. T. Stively, of Chicago; Judges Arnold and Green, of Philadelphia, and Judges Meyer and Metzger, of Williamsport, Pa.

The outgoing list was also a large one. Among the Duluth people who came down were Mayor Ray T. Lewis, J. E. Haynie and John Pantan.

MARINE NOTES.
After the steamer Zenith City had left the way at 1:30 o'clock on Tuesday her bow caught up against the dock at the opposite side of the ship and a dent six feet long resulted. The injury can be easily repaired.

The Yale Transit company of Wiloughby township, Lake county, has been incorporated. R. H. Rhodes, W. C. Rhodes, Robert Wallace, John H. Spencer, Frank S. Mason are the incorporators. They will own and operate vessels, both passenger and freight. Capital stock, $20,000. The new company will operate the new steamer Yale.

The government lighthouse at Belle de Gris, the entrance of Lac du Belles, has fallen down, having been unused for many years. Lac du Belles is a frequent harbor of refuge for vessels passing Keweenaw point in bad weather and the entrance is hard to make without a light.

A red and black stake will be placed at the head of Ballard's race in Detroit river. Flood light will mark New York and Boston shoals. A red light will be displayed on the former; on the latter a red light with white light above it.

Democratic County Convention at Cleveland for Free Silver.

Brice and the Gold Crowd Were Decisively Downed There.

Committee is Entirely Anti-Brice and for Free Silver.

Cleveland, Aug. 17.—The Democratic county convention to select delegates to the state convention to be held Tuesday and Wednesday at Springfield was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning. After a hot fight Alfred Whitaker was elected chairman over James Lawrence by a vote of 277 to 180.

The selection of Whitaker as chairman was a decided victory for the free silver and anti-Brice faction.

A motion by a free silver delegate to appoint a committee of seven to select delegates to the state convention caused a row that for a time threatened to result in more than a war of words. The committee as selected was composed of eight free silver and anti-Brice men, headed by James Lawrence.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Agricultural Bureau Adopts it in all Classes.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The extension of classified civil service to practically the entire force of the agricultural department is formally announced in a circular issued by Secretary Morton. In a communication to Dr. D. E. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, Secretary Morton says that classification affords protection from removal for purely political or personal cause, adds to the responsibility of every employee, and should secure from each additional fidelity, vigilance and attention to work.

Discussing the effect of the extension, Secretary Morton adds: A classified service means an improved service in all that contributes to thoroughness and efficiency. No person need expect to be held in place or promoted because of any political or other extraneous influence which may be wielded on his or her behalf. Meritorious service will be the sole ground of promotion, and reductions in grade or salary will be made only as the result of inefficiency. Removal will quickly follow insubordination, inattention to duty, intemperance or incapacity from whatever cause. The service must be conducted in a business manner and according to regulations.

PARADE OF PRESIDENTS.

Atlanta's Big Show Expects Three Executives.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Steps have been taken to bring the presidents of two of the most important of the Southern republics to the cotton states and international exposition. It is probable that a congressional bill shortly start to Venezuela to invite President Crespo and his cabinet to visit Atlanta during the exposition. A committee, headed by Dr. R. D. Spaulding, vice chairman of the executive committee, rence, nothing from the hall with the announcement that they would at once hold a "rump" convention. After their withdrawal the motion to select a committee of seven to select delegates to the state convention prevailed. This committee, as selected, was composed of eight free silver and anti-Brice men. The seceders, to the number of about seventy-five, at once went to another hall, organized and elected fifty-nine delegates to the state convention. Resolutions were adopted condemning the methods pursued by the so-called regular convention, and after giving three cheers for Senator Brice, they adjourned.

Resolutions were passed by the regular convention opposing Calvin S. Brice as United States senator and favoring the free coinage of silver. After the adoption of the report of the committee on delegates the convention adjourned.

PEPPER AND SILVER.
He Still Clings to the White Metal.

Minneapolis, Aug. 17.—A state official who wrote to Senator Pepper, of Kansas, asking him whether the newspaper reports that he had gone back on free silver were true, received a reply this morning denouncing the "partisan newspaper press," and asserting emphatically that the silver craze was not dying out, but was fast widening its field.

"It was like a volcano which could not be suppressed by covering the crater. The belief in the East that it was dying out," he added, "was due to the fact that it had now passed the pyrotechnic stage of the demonstration, and was entering the time for sober thought had arrived."

EX-MAYOR HEWITT'S HEALTH.
New York, Aug. 17.—Ex-Mayor Hewitt was one of the first passengers to land when the Cunard line steamship Eturia reached her dock this morning. It appeared to be in very poor health and was assisted down the gang plank by Mrs. Hewitt. The ex-mayor's daughter said there was nothing alarming in his condition.

will leave tomorrow for the City of Mexico to present to President Diaz and his cabinet an invitation to visit the exposition. President Diaz has taken a deep interest in the exposition, and will have a fine exhibit here, and there is every reason to believe that he will come.

The presence of the presidents of two of the greatest republics, together with the president of the United States, will be an event unparalleled in the history of the Western hemisphere, and will tend to increase the cordial feeling which this exposition has done so much to establish between this country and its neighbors in South and Central America.

AT KU CHENG.
Commission at Scene of the Recent Massacre.

Hong Kong, Aug. 17.—The commission appointed to investigate the recent massacres of missionaries and their families at Ku Cheng, which left Poo Chow on Tuesday last, has arrived safely at Ku Cheng. Important arrests have been made in connection with the massacres. The natives are quiet and appear to be much alarmed at the arrival of the commission.

The commission consists of R. W. Mansfield, the acting British consul at Poo Chow; J. C. Hixson, the United States consul at Poo Chow; L. B. Allen, the British consul at Padoh Island; the Rev. Messrs. Bannister, Gregory and Starr, and Lieut. Evans, of the United States warship Detroit, together with a number of Chinese officials of high rank. The commission is escorted by the Chinese forces.

RAILROAD LEASED.
New York, Aug. 17.—The North Carolina railway has been leased to the Southern Railroad company for ninety years, the terms being the payment of 6 1/2 per cent interest of the capital stock of the North Carolina Railway company for the first six years, which is the present rental of the road, and for the rest of the term of the lease the rental is to be 7 per cent.

TRAMPS

Toledo Policemen Wounded in a Fight With the Wanderers.

Shootist Arrested After a Hard Chase of Two Hours.

Jail Delivery in Which Six Prisoners Make Good Their Escape.

Toledo, Aug. 17.—Three tramps gave the police a two hours' chase and a pitched battle today. Two policemen were wounded—Shaffer, shot through the right shoulder, and Smith in the right hand, the ball smashing the bones of a finger. For some time tramps have been making a rendezvous under the Oak street bridge over the Lake Shore road. Patrolman Shaffer ordered a gang to leave.

Part did so, three defying him. He called Officer Smith to his aid and proceeded to drive them out when one of the men named Clarence A. Smith, a New York sailor, drew a pistol and wounded both. The patrol wagon was summoned, and after a two hours' chase the three were captured, after Smith had his legs from the knees down filled with lead by a double-barreled gun fired by an officer.

Today six prisoners in the county jail attacked Turnkey Mosler, who was being shaved by a prisoner, and handcuffed him and locked him in a cell, and escaped by means of his keys.

Mundy, who murdered his wife, was at the head of the conspiracy. The others were burglars and robbers. It was fifteen minutes before the alarm was given and so far but one has been captured—McClelland, charged with grand larceny.

Detective McLaughlin found him in the outskirts and halted him. The criminal ran and the officer fired, the ball striking him at the edge of the forehead, plowing a furrow to the rear of the head and stunning him.

DEARER BEER.
Brewers About Ready to Advance the Prices.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—It is stated that the brewers' agreement to advance prices to retailers in Chicago now lacks only four signatures of comprising all the beer producers in Chicago. Within the last forty-eight hours the signatures of J. S. Cooke, who was one of the bitterest opponents of the scheme, has been obtained. The remaining four brewers who still hold out are said to be small concerns, which recently started in business during the height of the beer war.

The first effects of the brewers' agreement will be to drive out of business at least 2000 of the present 7000 licensed saloon keepers in the city. During the month a policy for $10.00 on Mrs. Kent's life is emphatically denied by Mr. Allison. Kent's attorney says the story has been cooked up to prejudice sentiment in the coming trial.

POLICY STORY DENIED.
St. Paul, Aug. 17.—A Mandan special to the Dispatch says: The report that Mr. Allison, of Steele, has in his possession a policy for $10.00 on Mrs. Kent's life is emphatically denied by Mr. Allison. Kent's attorney says the story has been cooked up to prejudice sentiment in the coming trial.

But intense as is the feeling on the part of the Buddhists on this account, the gentleman quoted does not believe it would have led them to commit an act in direct contravention of their very doctrine. He thinks it more likely that advantage has been taken of the knowledge of this antagonism between the vegetarians and the Christians to make the blame for the killing of the missionaries at the doors of the anti-meat-eating sect, when in fact they were in no way responsible for it.

HELPED THEM ESCAPE.
Poughkeepsie, Aug. 17.—W. E. Hopkins, of Lowpoint, an ex-attendant of the Mattawan state asylum for insane criminals, was locked up in this city today on a charge of intoxication, but in reality he is charged with aiding the notorious robber Oliver Curtis Perry and four convicts to escape from Mattawan asylum last April. He was at first defiant, but finally confessed that he was implicated in the escape.

A CONTRACTOR'S CLAIM.
Rockport, Ind., Aug. 17.—Frank Malone, of Chicago, today filed suit in the circuit court against the Chicago, Indianapolis & Chattanooga railway company for $25,000 claimed to be due him as contractor for grading the road from this city to Grandview. The plaintiff also alleges that the officers of the company have mismanaged its financial affairs and have converted its assets to their own use, rendering the company bankrupt, wherefore he asks for the appointment of a receiver.

STOLEN SECURITIES.

Montreal's City Treasurer's Safe is Robbed.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Great excitement was caused by the statement that $40,000 worth of securities have been stolen from the safes of the city treasurer in the city hall.

City Treasurer Robb admits the truth of the story in so far that the securities are missing, but the man who has charge of them, William McDunough, is sick in bed, and cannot be seen.

NOT VEGETARIANS.

Chinese Diplomat Thinks They Are Blameless.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The better class of Chinamen in this city, notably those connected with the Chinese legation, discredit the report that the recent riots in China have been committed by the vegetarians. Said one of these gentlemen in discussing this report: "It is incredible. The vegetarians in all Eastern countries are persons who abstain from the use of all flesh as an article of diet, because of conscientious scruples against the taking of any form of life. They are of Buddhist faith and do not believe in killing animals, much less human beings, and it is not to be believed that they would let their antagonism to any religion cause them to take human life. They are regarded of submissive disposition."

Discussing the matter further, the gentleman said it was true that a strong prejudice existed among the vegetarians against the missionaries because of the former's abstinence of meat as an article of diet, and because they believe that the practice of meat-eating is a part of the Christian faith. Many of them think that if they should become Christians they would be compelled to adopt a meat diet, and some of the native converts to Christianity, between whom and the followers of the other faith had been a bitter feud.

Chris Johnson, foreman of the bricklayers was on the ladder inside the wall and Jesse North, bricklayer, stood on the scaffold. Both fell into the cellar and had to be dug out. Johnson was sent to Harper's hospital with an ugly scalp wound and his eyes full of lime which may cause him to lose his sight. North was taken home in the Emergency hospital ambulance, not very badly injured.

Frederick Dekorske, a laborer who was standing on the rafters of the top floor when the walls fell was carried down to the cellar and received a painful wound in the abdomen.

SECY CARLISLE'S TRIP.
It May Benefit the Life Saving Service.

Washington, Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The officials of the treasury department who have direct supervision over the lighthouses on the great lakes and those also in charge of the life saving stations are now deeply interested regarding the observations of Secretary Carlisle who, as is well known, is making a lengthy tour around the great lakes. Of course, it is not claimed that Secretary Carlisle made this trip for the express purpose of looking into these questions of so much importance to the lake interests, but it is believed to be a fact, nevertheless, that while on this journey he will absorb a good deal of information that he otherwise could not have secured unless the trip had been taken.

Whatever else may be said of Secretary Carlisle, it is conceded by his political opponents, as well as his political supporters, that he is a most observant man. The general opinion is that his trip around the lakes will not be given up entirely to pleasure. If he is able to secure the information, the prospects are that in his annual recommendations to congress Mr. Carlisle will advise that more money be appropriated than has been the case in the past to improve the benefits derived from the life saving stations and lighthouses on the great lakes.

It is pretty generally believed that Mr. Carlisle, by his trip from Duluth around Lake Superior and the other lakes east and southeast, will see the necessity of a better service so far as the lighthouse and life saving stations are concerned, and that in addition to this he may also recommend additional appropriations for a better revenue cutter service on the great lakes.

BOOM FOR DAVIS.
Friends Will Now Boldly Urge His Nomination.

St. Paul, Aug. 17.—The Dispatch this evening will contain an interview with Capt. H. A. Castle, a life-long friend of Senator C. K. Davis. Capt. Castle states that friends of the senator are convinced that there is a strong sentiment in favor of Mr. Davis as a candidate for the presidency, and that from now on they should boldly urge and work for his nomination.

NEW MEXICO IRRIGATION.
Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 17.—Positive information has been received here that the Smith & Bodger irrigation projects have been practically consolidated and placed in the hands of C. D. Eddy who undertakes to finance this scheme and place the bonds and do for the Rio Grande valley what he has done for the Pecos. An immense dam is to be thrown across the Rio Grande near old Fort Selden, from which ditches will extend south to the El Paso, irrigating valley lands on either side of the river for a distance of eighty miles.

ASSAULT

Louis Meinung Struck With a Mallet at West Duluth Today.

Deep Gash Cut in His Head. But it is Not Very Serious.

An Italian Named Antonio Cordick Committed the Murderous Assault.

Louis Meinung, the contractor who is building the Central avenue sewer, was struck on the head with a wooden mallet by one of his workmen this morning. The instrument made a deep wound in his head and had it not been a glancing blow would probably have resulted fatally.

The affair happened about noon, or just as Mr. Meinung was going his rounds with his time book. The foreman was having a little difficulty with one of the Italian laborers in attempting to teach him to do a certain part of the work. Mr. Meinung jumped down into the ditch and as he did so pushed the man away from him. At this moment he was struck from above with the mallet by a brother of the man in the ditch.

The names of the men are Michael and Antonio Cordick, the latter being the one who struck the blow. As soon as the deed was done the two brothers took to their heels and are supposed to have gone to their home in Duluth.

WISCONSIN MAN WINS A Valuable Estate in England.
Racine, Wis., Aug. 17.—Many of the residents of Racine county are more than interested in the announcement that William Foxwell, eldest son of Mrs. Lucy P. Foxwell, of the town of Yorkville, Racine county, has won his title to the famous Hartley-Hartley estate in England. The man in question was one of the claimants to the vast estate. Mr. Foxwell went to England last November to look after the Foxwell interests. He has just forwarded the following cablegram to his mother, now living on a farm in the town of Yorkville: "We have won."

DECLINED

Wheat Opened Slightly Lower Today, But Afterwards Ruled Steady.

Easy Cables Were the Cause of the Early Weakness.

The Subsequent Steadiness Helped by the Bulge in Corn at Chicago.

Wheat started weak today, owing largely to easy cables. The early weakness was soon succeeded by comparative steadiness, the market being helped mainly by a bulge in corn at Chicago. The first prices were the lowest of the day, September starting 3/4c at 43 1/2c. It subsequently held close around 43 1/2c, with one temporary rise to 43 3/4c, and the last trading at 43 1/2c. Only one transaction in the December future was reported, at 10 o'clock when it sold at 66c. There was a fair trade in the September option. The market closed 1/2c lower all round than yesterday.

The primary market receipts altogether were again small and in as great contrast as ever when placed against last year's clearances from the principal Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 2922 bush; corn, 65,397 bush, and 11,094 bush of barley. The Argentine shipments for the week were reported as only 92,000 bush, and any further serious competition from that quarter is no longer to be feared. The clearances from both coasts for the week in wheat and flour together amounted to 1,534,000 bush, against 1,550,000 bush on the week before. The closing prices at Duluth were as follows:

No. 1 hard, cash, 63 1/2c; August, 63 1/2c; No. 2 hard, cash, 63 1/2c; August, 63 1/2c; No. 3 hard, cash, 63 1/2c; August, 63 1/2c; No. 4 hard, cash, 63 1/2c; August, 63 1/2c; No. 5 hard, cash, 63 1/2c; The temperature has fallen 8 to 10 degrees in the Dakotas since yesterday morning. It is also cooler in the Upper Missouri valley.

There has been a rise of four-tenths of an inch in pressure during the last twelve hours in the region north of Montana.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 62; maximum yesterday, 65; minimum yesterday, 42; rainfall, .40 inch.

Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity, till 10 p. m. tomorrow: Fair and cooler today and tonight; fair Sunday; fresh northeast wind.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Wisconsin: To-night and Sunday: cooler tonight; fresh northwest wind. Duluth and vicinity: till 10 p. m. tomorrow: Fair and cooler today and tonight; fair Sunday; fresh northeast wind.

Depth of water over miles still in St. Mary's ship canal 14 feet 7 inches and the forecast is that it will rise the next twenty-four hours. Upper lakes: Lakes Michigan and Superior: Fair, preceded today by showers; cooler, fresh northeast wind.

The temperature has fallen 10 to 15 degrees in the Dakotas and Western Minnesota and has risen in the extreme Northwest.

THE NATURAL INCREASE.

The comparative census figures in regard to Duluth, which are published in the St. Paul papers, do this city an injustice. They represent that there has been a decrease of 3101 in the population of the Third ward and a decrease of 281 in the population of the Fourth ward since the census of 1890, and the following statement is appended to the Duluth figures: "The Seventh and Eighth wards have been added to Duluth since the 1890 census was taken. Combined they added an increase of 15,832 to the population, taken from 26,251, gives a natural increase for Duluth proper during the five years of 10,399."

The fact is that all the wards in the city were changed after the census of 1890 was taken and the boundaries of the present Third and Fourth wards do not correspond with the boundaries of the Third and Fourth wards mentioned in the 1890 census, so that it is unfair to say that their population has decreased. It is also incorrect to say that the Seventh and Eighth wards have been added since 1890. Part of the old city of Duluth is included in the Seventh ward. The population of the city was about 5000 at the time of annexation, so that the natural increase of the city during the five years has been over 21,000.

A PROBABLE CANDIDATE.

Rumor has credited Maj. Baldwin with a desire to again become the Democratic candidate for congress in this district next year, and it has been said that he did not think that he would have any opposition for the nomination. There are indications, however, that the major will not have a walk-over for the nomination. J. N. Rogers, of Princeton, Minn. Lacis county, is being talked of as the Democratic candidate. He was a well known lawyer of St. Paul for about thirty years, and in 1874 the Democracy of St. Paul elected him to the legislature. He was prominent in the session of 1873. At that session the impeachment of William Seeger, state treasurer, for the misappropriation of $112,000 was an exciting and important matter. Representative Clarke, of Hennepin, had introduced a white-washing resolution attempting to exonerate the state treasurer. Mr. Rogers offered the following amendment: "Strike out all the preamble and all the resolutions after the word 'resolved' and insert the following: 'That State Treasurer William Seeger be impeached for gross negligence and corrupt conduct in office, and for high crimes and misdemeanors in office.'"

The amendment was adopted, and to this action the state is largely indebted for the recovery of the large sum mentioned.

Mr. Rogers is an old soldier and went over to the Democratic party on the Greeley wave in 1872, and has always supported the Democratic ticket until last fall when he voted for Sidney M. Owen for governor. It is hardly likely, however, that his Democracy will be questioned on account of his vote for Owen because there were many prominent Democrats in the Sixth district who voted the same way last year. Mr. Rogers is an aggressive political worker and if he makes a fight for the nomination, Maj. Baldwin will find him a dangerous opponent.

The fathers of would-be bloomer girls took a queer way of killing off that craze in Birmingham, Ala. So far it seems none but young girls have appeared in bloomers there, but it became whispered around that some of the young women were having the tops constructed. Thereupon the anti-bloomers secured the services of an enormous negress, whom they dressed in a grotesque bloomer costume, consisting of a red waist, blue trousers, with a broad white stripe down the sides, and bright yellow hose. This ridiculous figure has been made to parade the streets on a bicycle for several days past, perspiring at every pore. She has served, it is said, to forever kill the bloomer craze in the Magic City.

BIMETALLISM IN ENGLAND.

The St. Paul Dispatch of last evening contained an article on the growth of bimetalism in England, which was not because the Dispatch has not been showing much friendliness lately to the bimetallic cause. The Dispatch says, in part: "Those Americans who imagine that bimetalism has no place in practical British politics should review the course of the recent British elections, in order to revise their own conclusions. In many of the constituencies it was made an open and declared issue, and the result was in favor of bimetalism, especially in the north of England, where the manufacturers have been suffering for some time from the effects of the closing of the India mints against the further coinage of silver rupees."

The action of the English electors has not simply resulted in a vigorous protest against the maintenance of monometallism, but it has had definite and significant results. George Shaw-Lefevre, aside from Sir William Harcourt, the most pronounced and irreconcilable monometallist in the late Rosebery cabinet, was defeated at Bradford on that definite issue. Sixty members of the London Bimetallic club made it a special matter to make it a reason for his defeat, and succeeded admirably.

"Bimetalism in England is not confined to the Conservative party by any manner of means. It is developing a strong influence within the lines of the Liberal organization, and the defeat of Mr. Shaw-Lefevre by Liberals themselves who are realizing that there is something more of value in the situation in England than that she is the greatest creditor nation on earth. Two years ago, when the Gladstone ministry closed the mints of India, and deprived 300,000,000 British subjects of any money metal whatever, Mr. Grenfell, chairman of the Bimetallic league, and a Liberal member from Hereford in the house of commons, resigned in disgust, and that fact, with many others, since rapidly accumulating, contributed its full share toward the downfall of the Liberals in the recent elections."

The above statement of facts is commended to the attention of the few gold standard men in Duluth.

INFORMATION WANTED.

The News Tribune gives its readers today a wonderful lesson in geography, in the course of an article on "our foreign trade" in which reference was made to the contract recently made by the Russian government with a Detroit, Mich., firm for the construction of three immense ferry steamers, to be operated in connection with the trans-Siberian railroad. Speaking of this railroad, the News Tribune says: "Directly in its path lie Lake Balkhash, which is the Caspian sea and the Sea of Aral, is the largest body of fresh water in Asia. It is situated in the south of Siberia, in the government of Irkutsk, near the great military road between Moscow, Khabarovsk and the mines of Nerchinsk."

This is very interesting information, if true, but unfortunately it is not exactly correct, according to the geographical authorities. It may be possible, however, that the News Tribune has received some inside information from the Russian government in regard to the matter, which was denied to the compilers of gazetteers. Therefore, it may be able to answer these questions for the benefit of a curious public: Since when have the Sea of Aral and the Caspian seas been in contact? How did Lake Balkhash get moved into "the south of Siberia?"

UNFAIR AND IGNORANT.

The acme of unfairness is represented by the Minneapolis Tribune in its references to Mr. Towne and his financial views. In its issue of yesterday it refers to Mr. Towne's speech here on Wednesday evening and says: "Towne intimates that France is on a free coinage basis. He says let us imitate the example of 'beautiful France,' etc. Why does he conceal the fact that, according to his favorite author, Muhlenberg, whom he quotes in his recent communication with the Tribune, France is on a bimetallic basis at the present time?"

Mr. Towne did not assert nor did he intimate in any portion of his speech that France is on a free coinage basis, and only such a notoriously unfair gold bug organ as the Tribune would impute such a statement to him. Mr. Towne made a reference to the time when France was on a bimetallic basis and in his peroration paraphrased the words of Cernushki in the conference of 1881, in which he beautifully described the exchange of France previous to 1874. Of course it is too much to expect that the Tribune knew that such a man as Cernushki ever lived or that he used this beautiful language which sapient sheet calls "sophomoric rant."

WHAT MEXICO IS DOING.

A recent press dispatch says that Mexico's silver bonds, bearing 5 per cent interest, are quoted at 5 per cent interest and are in brisk demand in Europe, where bankers find ready sale for them. Even 3 per cent internal bonds, payable in silver, are in demand, and it is said that "bankers state that the European demand for silver securities is growing." These news from the Mexican republic are equally encouraging, indicating that Mexico is coming out of the depths in spite of its incompetent peon labor.

While the advocates of a gold currency system, says the Kansas City World, claim that it is the harbinger of civilization, and that their favorite money, history is being made today to show that progress is possible under a strictly silver system. Nay, even more, history shows that gold is dragging down the people who espouse its cause, deprecating values, depreciating the purchasing power of the dollar, causing panics, unduly elevating the creditor and money-lender and in all ways contracting, instead of expanding, the financial ability of the people. These are self-evident truths.

When such progress is possible in Mexico with a silver system only and with incompetent peon labor, what reason is there to doubt that the establishment of bimetalism and silver as a means of redemption money by a wealthy country like the United States, would be attended by development and progress such as the world has never seen?

A congress of state commissions on uniformity of laws will meet at Detroit, Mich., on Aug. 26. Twenty-six states have already appointed commissions. The purpose sought to be accomplished is uniform legislation on matters of common interstate interest, and especially respecting marriage, divorce and labor laws, accompanied by the adoption of uniform hours of labor throughout the several states on the ground that both the interests of labor and capital will be thereby promoted.

A New York dispatch says that $30,000,000 of the United States 4 per cent bonds, sold abroad by the Belmont Rothschild syndicate, have been returned to this country, and it adds that this is a new chapter that the syndicate will have to face. Their return means the shipment of that amount of gold to Europe and the consequent depletion of the treasury gold reserve. Then it will be necessary to issue more bonds to get additional gold. What a beautiful system is the single gold standard system—for the money lenders?

"The Canals of Canada" is the title of an interesting pamphlet of some fifty pages, accompanied by large and excellent maps of the canal system of the Dominion which has been written by Thomas C. Keefer, C. M. G., and published by Durie & Son, of Ottawa, Ont. It is an extremely valuable publication to all who are interested in the deep waterway question and in the improvement of the present canal system. It is sold at the very low price of 50 cents.

Within the last ten years labor-saving machinery has retired a great many laborers. Statistics just published for Europe show that the number of carpenters has been reduced 15 per cent; buttonhole makers, 50 per cent; shirt-makers, 33 per cent; bakers and confectioners, 40 per cent; cabinet-makers, 35 per cent; typesetters, 41 per cent; type foundries, 50 per cent; silk band weavers, 40 per cent, and wood cutters, 42 per cent within that time.

Ex-Senator Washburn has affirmed the correctness of the statement credited to him that he believed "Gas" Addicks, of Delaware, should be killed, meaning of course politically and not physically. But it was unnecessary for the ex-senator to express such a wish. "Gas" Addicks is dead politically—as dead as the Minneapolis ex-senator.

The St. Paul Globe says: "Now that Duluth knows its population, it can start on its next decade of growth." Thank you, Duluth does not find it necessary to start on another decade of growth, because it has never stopped growing. It is always advancing, and has gained considerable population since the state census was taken two months ago.

Referring to the proposed bull fight at Cripple Creek, the News Tribune says: "The idea of two bulls fighting without either getting hurt is decidedly funny." Yes, indeed; almost as funny as the News Tribune's idea of a bull fight. Some one should tell that that only one bull appears at a time in a bull fight.

The Pioneer Press of yesterday said the panic of 1893 was caused by the "possibility of this country reaching a silver basis." It was not long ago that the same paper said the panic was caused by the tariff agitation and fear of radical reductions in duties. Its editorial writers should get together.

Elizabeth Cady Stanton, advocating bloomers, has declared as follows: "Women's legs are much prettier than men's. Why shouldn't she show them?" Why, indeed?

The Milwaukee Sentinel says that the difference between ordinary trousers and bloomers is that bloomers do everything that ordinary trousers do only at the knees.

When W. D. Washburn denounces the political methods of "Gas" Addicks, it instantly calls to mind the old saying about "satan reproving sin."

The cause of winter traffic to the Nile is doing much for Egypt. Last season's pleasure-seekers numbered 7500, half Americans.

The New York Press thinks that Cleveland must be buoyed up by the belief that two bad terms deserve another.

BOLL WORMS IN MISSISSIPPI. Jackson, Miss., Aug. 17.—Capt. M. L. Jenkins has just returned from the Delta district, where he went on a tour of inspection of the state farms. He says the boll worms have made their appearance in alarming numbers in Washington and Issaquena counties.

THE ROUNDER.

"Isn't that a pretty train?" said General Manager Plough, of the St. Paul & Duluth road, to the Rounder yesterday evening, as the limited was pulling into the depot, with the historic engine "99" on the head. Then he added in an explanatory way:

"I don't particularly refer to the equipment, although that is first-class, but to the run. It's a nice run, and the time is pretty lively, but some of these days you will wake up and find we have lopped out the depot, with the present schedule. We can do it with our present motive power, but we will have to cut out some of the present stops."

Then the urban general manager's attention was directed to the chattering birds which have built their nests in the big train shed and he said:

"Yes, I've told Bell that he must polio the entire roof and drive them out. I don't exactly know how Bell will do it, but it will give him a lot to do about it, and may success attend him."

The following query was received at The Herald office the other day:

To the Editor: Will you kindly inform me what the suit in a game of poker, for example, if four hands showed royal flushes which would result in a draw, would be? I have a bet that hearts would win and I leave the matter to you for decision.

The Herald has no poker editor and referred the matter to the Rounder, who seemed part of the sunset and sent the following: "The writer of the letter is wrong. In the first place hands which would result in a draw would be a draw. In the second place, if four hands showed royal flushes which would result in a draw, would be a draw. I have a bet that hearts would win and I leave the matter to you for decision."

PREACHERS WITH BIG CONGREGATIONS NOW CAN SPEAK THROUGH TELEPHONES.

Successful Experiments at the Big Baptist Temple at Philadelphia.

Christ Church, Birmingham, England, and Its Telephone Circuit.

And now the telephone is to be utilized as an accessory to the pulpit, says the New York Herald.

A series of highly interesting experiments were made a few days ago in Philadelphia, which, when carried to their natural conclusions, will make it possible, and even easy, for any popular orator to enlarge the numerical limit of his auditors almost indefinitely.

The speaker, whose audience is now limited to the seating capacity of his church, may simultaneously address his words of exhortation to two, three or even a dozen simultaneous audiences, gathered in separate auditoriums, and they, too, without any extra exertion or inconvenience on his part, provided he possesses the first requisite of the successful orator—good speaking power and direct enunciation.

The experiments were made in Philadelphia's famous Baptist edifice known as the Temple, at Broad and Berks streets. It is one of the largest church structures in America, greater than any of the tabernacles which Dr. Talmage has made famous, larger in its seating capacity than most of the theaters and opera houses of the world. And yet it is no longer large enough.

The individual members of the great Temple flock were brought face to face with the enormous fact that they were rapidly outgrowing their shepherd one Friday night about a month ago when the Rev. Russell H. Conwell, their pastor, in his characteristically blunt way, said to them: "When 112 more persons have associated themselves as members of this church every seat in the Upper Temple will be occupied by a Christian."

If everyone of these Christians attends service and occupies his or her seat, there will be no further scope here for evangelized work. What shall we do? Think it out; think it out!"

What Pastor Conwell alluded to as the "Upper Temple" is the main auditorium, in which the preaching services are held. Every Sunday, night and week-day, the church is crowded. But there is a "Lower Temple," too—a vast, airy room beneath the other, and here, too, the services are held. The Rev. Dr. Conwell assured me of his confident belief that in a few weeks at most, the problem would be completely solved, and the capacity of the Temple auditorium would be practically trebled, while all would listen to the same sermon, the same prayers, and the same music.

The Temple sustains two flourishing missions in outlying portions of the city, and also provides for the needs of the Samaritan hospital, which it founded several years ago. It is not unlikely that the telephone system may be extended ultimately to include in its circuit all of those institutions, and the possible further ramifications of such a system appear to be almost limitless.

Ex-Treasurer Taylor has furnished the $200,000 bill required and the bonds have been approved by all the judges of the city. A rumor is in circulation in Buffalo county, South Dakota, that two Bedell brothers have been hung by a vigilance committee west of the Missouri river, at a cattle rustling. They are the men who did the stupendous cattle stealing in the western part of Jewell county last year.

At Fargo, N. D., the work of laying cedar blocks was commenced today. According to the report of the city engineer, laid by Acting Mayor Schuyler, followed by a demonstration followed.

At Pierre, S. D., Mrs. Pollock, the New York city divorcee, who is suing for $100,000 from her husband, who received a divorce in Sioux Falls about a year ago, was granted $25,000 by the state supreme court, which was a victory for the plaintiff.

Attorney Campbell, at Mandan, N. D., one of Kent's attorneys, says Mr. Allison, of Steele, has in his possession a life insurance policy for $50,000 on Mrs. Kent's life, which Kent turned over to him just before his death. Allison says he has reported to have said that now Kent has left his wife a large sum of money.

At Ederly, N. D., the first threshing of the season has been done, wheat yielding from eight to ten bushels, some pieces will go more. The average will undoubtedly be near ten bushels. Oats and barley are a fair crop, while eye is light. Hays are in good condition, but late fall will be a total failure, unless rain comes.

Charles Andrews, who is behind the bars in the Lawrence county, South Dakota, jail charged with adultery and bigamy, apparently has an interesting history. Charges were preferred against him by his wife, who followed him from her Nebraska home and found him in a questionable resort. With another woman, Mrs. Andrews married him three years ago in Nebraska, and went to Nebraska to live. She has subsequently learned that his name was not Andrews, but Tarbox, and that he is wanted in Massachusetts for robbing an express company several years ago. She says she has a husband and two children, and that he has a wife and two children of this same time ago, but loving Andrews so much, she agreed to overlook his past and continue to live with him. But when he deserted her for "Tallulah," she got angry and declares she will see that he is justly punished for his past crimes.

Lewis Bunker, of Jewell county, Kan., was committed to jail at Hinton, D., in default of $300 bail, to answer a charge of mayhem against Frank Holtman, from whose nose Bunker during a quarrel, bit about half an inch of flesh.

Two new elevators are to be erected at Pomona, D. The wheat crop never was better in this vicinity and wheat cutting has commenced all over the county. At the preliminary hearing of Martin Bunker, with intent to kill on the person of Mrs. Schneider in the City of Hinton, D., the evidence was found wanting and the defendant was discharged.

The message I have now to deliver does not refer to you men at Birmingham, I am about to speak to the people of two large cities in the North. And then with all his eloquence he upbraided these two cities.

COMMERCIAL PULSE.

Dun and Bradstreet Announce
Its Feeling.

New York, Aug. 17.—R. G. Dun & Co. say, in their review of trade today, it is a belated season; a frozen May set everything back. The heavy business which ought to have been done in May and June was pushed into July, so that the midsummer decline, due in July, comes in August. With this in mind, it is not surprising to find the shrinkage from July to August rather more conspicuous than usual.

Back of all doubts is the fact that the industries are doing better than anybody could have expected. The price of pig iron Aug. 1 was 150,250 tons week, or 175,000, by another report. In other cases close to the retail output, in 1895, surpassed by 15,000 tons in the spring of 1892. In gold stocks are $2,000 smaller, the great steel companies having made heavy purchases in advance of needs. The actual consumption in large and prices rise in the face of the increasing output. Bessemer iron is $14.15 at Pittsburgh, and plates have advanced $1 per ton.

The sales of steel rails in 1895 to Aug. 1 were $29,000 tons and the deliveries $22,000 tons. Generally in this industry have been vigorously advanced. Minor metals change little, though large sales of lake copper to 124 cents. Textile imports have been very heavy, and advances in cotton goods to some extent are being bought. Sales of wheat, which were 6,313,000 pounds domestic and 2,379,500 foreign this month, against 12,570,650 pounds last year domestic and 4,586,000 foreign, indicate that domestic work is held for speculation at prices about 1 cent higher than manufacturers feel able to pay.

Crop reports modified expectations as to cotton and wheat, and cotton speculators have bought, lifting the price 1-16ths of a cent, while wheat, with more evidence of loss in yield, has declined 1-8 cents. A third of a year's consumption of American cotton is yet on hand, but not a third of a year's consumption of wheat. Receipts for the week are better, but the half year's, and in three weeks 6,585,531 bushels against 17,211,651 bushels last year

TREASURE

Fabulous Treasure Placed
by Legends on Lonely Ocean Islands.

Expeditious to Recover Parts of Buccaneer's Hidden Plunderings.

Various Yarns Which Are Strangely Alike in Many Details.

There is gold, tons of it; and silver, so much of it that they used it to bait their ships; and diamonds and rubies and other gems by the bushel measure. That is the second part of the story told of various lonely islands of the American hemisphere, and with chief particularity of three: Santa Catalina in the Caribbean near Cocos Island in the Pacific, and Trinidad in the South Atlantic—the scene of Baron Haden-Hickes' recent experiment in kingdom making, and since then grabbed by Great Britain. The first part of the story relates to the manner in which the treasure got to the island. Its main features may be found in any romance about pirates, and need not be repeated here. Merely to inspire interest in the present narrative, the statement is made at this point that few estimates of the value of the treasure have been less than $1,000,000, most of them have been above $10,000,000, and some daring minds have soared to the $20,000,000 mark and beyond, says the New York Sun.

After the pirate had buried his treasure where it never could possibly be of use to him, he determined to make just one last cruise, and accordingly set sail to inearnest the wave. To his act the public is indebted for this, the third part of the story. Soon after starting he was attacked by a man-of-war and wiped out of existence, with all his crew save one sailor who was started to tell the tale in his old age to a benefactor, who has been repeating it ever since to capitalists, big and little, in the hope of inducing them to advance the money required to fit out an expedition to recover the buried treasure. Such are the solid, undisputed facts of the legend that an island exists somewhere on the coast of the Americas, and that it is the most unexpected corner. It does not seem to be an out-and-out swindle, although swindlers have availed themselves of it. If the truth could be known it would probably be found to be a bundle of contradictions, and the legend is active at all times. Occasionally stories of failures, or rumors of success, which are printed in the newspapers, but a good many attempts are made to induce them to advance the money required to fit out an expedition to recover the buried treasure. When people spend their money diving in the East river for the lost treasure, that weren't on board the British frigate Hussar when she sank a century ago, or digging for the treasure that Capt. Kidd didn't bury, the world is apt to notice the fact. But it is possible for a man to go to a faraway uninhabited island in search of a pirate's hoard without anybody being the wiser.

The legend is altered to suit prospective investors, and it also has been changed to fit the island on which it is fastened. Nevertheless, its variations may be reduced to three principal propositions as to the source of the treasure. They are that it was part of the plunder gathered by that flower among the buccaners, Sir Henry Morgan, who sacked Panama in the seventeenth century; that it was gathered by one of the privateers who flourished in the early part of the century under the patronage of the South American states; that it was the spoils collected during the civil wars in Central America, and lastly, that it was the spoils of the Spanish treasure fleets, which were captured in the middle of the present century. The most consistent is the Morgan variation of the legend, and has probably been responsible for more expeditions than the others.

Santa Catalina is a little point of sand and rock rising out of the Caribbean sea, ninety miles west of the coast of Central America, and forming one of the little group known as the islands of San Andres and La Providencia. It is about a mile in circumference, and contains a network of canals. Morgan was the most successful of the buccaners who preyed upon the Spaniards in America, and his raid upon Panama in 1670-71 was his greatest exploit. After settling the affairs of the expedition he was able to retire to business with a fortune, returned to England, and was knighted by King Charles II. Nothing accurate is known of the value of his plunder at Panama, but history says that it included about everything of value on the isthmus at the time when the wealth of Portoflowed through Panama on its way to Spain. According to the legend, one ship load of it was lost by Morgan, and it seems that he was in the habit of increasing his own share of the spoils taken in his various raids by cheating his companions in the division. On the occasion of the sack of Panama, the story goes, the crew of one vessel took the treasure with which it was laden in order to prevent Morgan from indulging in the practice, referred to, Morgan captured them subsequently, but not until they had disposed of their spoils, and they died under torture rather than reveal the hiding place. For a couple of centuries legendary stories have been current that the treasure was buried on Santa Catalina. Additional facts have been supplied with the lapse of time until now so small a detail as the exact number of dead pirates buried with the treasure is stated.

Two men are reputed to have found treasure on Santa Catalina in the last twenty years. One may be dismissed briefly. He is described as Alexander Archibald, of Old Providence, an island of the same group, and he is said to have discovered a jar containing $15,000 while digging in the treasure. The story has simply never been verified, nor has the existence of Mr. Archibald been demonstrated.

There is a good deal more to be said about the other man, John Currie, trader, of Kingston, Jamaica. He at least accomplished the feat of making intelligent men of the world believe in his discovery. He first brought himself into notice at Kingston by getting up an expedition to go after the treasure. This was his story: He landed upon the island from a Spanish vessel one day in search of wood and water. While there he came across an iguana and chased it. The animal ran into a hole. He put his hand into the hole, felt some masonry, and discovered the walled-up entrance to a cavern. Making his way in, this was the glorious sight he beheld: Nine earthen jars as tall as a man, filled to the brim with Spanish doubloons; cases filled with jewels, and goldware and silverware strewn about. Wishing to conceal the existence of the treasure from the Spaniards on the vessel, he contented himself with taking about $10,000 in gold and some jewelry. Then he replaced the masonry and sailed away. Whatever may have been his motive in organizing his first expedition, it was not successful, and he does not appear to have derived any pecuniary profit from it. His version of the failure was that an enterprising American learned of the expedition in Kingston, aroused the natives of the neighboring islands against him because he refused to consent to a division of the treasure, and had him sent as a prisoner to Colon. At Colon he certainly did arrive as a prisoner. It is alleged that the authorities there tried to make him disclose his secret. In other days he might have been tortured. As it was, the British consul, Mr. Compton, intervened, secured Currie's release and thereby brought about his own ruin.

Currie went back to Kingston, and there the late earl of Londsdale came upon the scene. In the winter of 1878-79, while cruising in his yacht in the West Indies, he heard about Currie, looked him up, and got him to tell about the discovery. Currie exhibited as proofs that his story was true some ancient Spanish doubloons and some very curious ornaments set with diamonds in an antique fashion. The earl was soon convinced, and an agreement was entered into between the two by which Londsdale was to contribute his yacht for the purpose of an expedition and Currie was to disclose the opening to the cavern. At the last moment Currie brought the projected expedition to a standstill by disappearing.

A tragedy followed this fiasco. Currie had exhibited his Spanish doubloons and diamond ornaments to Mr. Compton, the British consul at Colon, who had secured his release from prison. Mr. Compton, like others, was finally convinced of the truth of the story, and risked his whole fortune in a new expedition in search of the treasure at Santa Catalina. To guard against renewed interference on the part of the natives, Mr. Compton secured through the influence of his friends the services of a British man-of-war to act as convoy. Currie could not avoid accompanying this expedition, but, like the others, it was a failure. After reaching the island Currie announced that he had decided to refuse to show the treasure, was hidden, because he was afraid that in the division he would not receive his fair share. The treasure and promises alike proved useless to make him alter his determination. His refusal to lead the way to the cavern seems incomprehensible upon any hypothesis save the one that he had no secret to reveal, but even that which is altogether satisfactory, for he does not seem to have benefited in any way from the expedition. As to his fear of unfair treatment, the presence of the officers and crew of a naval vessel, and his ability to appeal later to courts of justice, ought to have been sufficient guarantees that right would be done. But he persisted in his refusal to show where the treasure lay. After this the crew of the man-of-war searched the little island industriously for three weeks and explored every nook and cranny without coming across a vestige of a pirate or a treasure. Then they sailed away, and Mr. Compton blew out his brains in despair.

Three years later Santa Catalina turned up in a new cast and was the object of an expedition sent out from New York in search of a treasure that came from another source. One ex-Judge A. J. Davidson, of San Francisco, was sailing around the world in a yacht some years before. In an Australian port he received on board an aged sailor, stricken with consumption and penniless who longed to be taken home to die in his native land. So Mr. Davidson accommodated him, like Mr. Davidson, the sailor was a Mason, which was an additional tie between them. Grateful to Mr. Davidson for the kindness shown him, the sailor told his secret and died. In his youth, on a cruise from Demerara to Newburyport, his brig was captured by a pirate, who massacred all the crew but him. He served on board the pirate ship several years. One day the pirate was attacked by a British man-of-war, and escaped. The pirate then decided the pirate captain to bury the booty he had on board on Santa Catalina. Thirty-six kegs of Spanish doubloons, the fruit of bloodshed and rapine, were accordingly placed in a pit in the sand, and the layer of conch shells, and the bodies of two dead pirates were laid on top. Then the pirate sailed away from the desert island, fell in with the man-of-war again, and was destroyed. The crew perished fighting, with the exception of Mr. Davidson's sailor. His explanation of his presence upon the pirate vessel was deemed satisfactory, and he was placed at liberty. It is to be observed that the sailor's age would make his pirate on the South American pirates referred to.

Mr. Davidson did nothing about the treasure until he had first made a fortune in speculations. Then he went to look it up. His desert island was Santa Catalina, although the treasure he sought was not Sir Henry Morgan's. Proceeding part of the way by steamer and part along in a sailboat, Mr. Davidson went to the island with the chart the dead sailor had given him to locate the treasure, and dug up the sand until he came to the two dead pirates lying on the layer of conch shells. Then the sea water flowed into the holes so rapidly that he could not get down to the thirty-six kegs of doubloons. The dead pirates and the conch shells satisfied him of the good faith of his sailor friend, and so he went to New York and organized a syndicate to provide a cofferdam to keep out the sea water. He does not seem to have had much difficulty in getting his syndicate together. Among the members were several men more or less well known in one way or another. They subscribed $10,000, which was not very much, seeing that Mr. Davidson estimated the thirty-six kegs of doubloons at $1,000,000. The steam yacht Maria was chartered for the trip to Santa Catalina, and John B. Peck, a special agent of the United States treasury, who was interested in the enterprise, got leave of absence to command the expedition. His days of glory were short. On the way to Santa Catalina the syndicate was riven by quarrels, the cause of which was the old difficulty of treasure-seekers—mutual distrust. At Kingston Mr. Davidson and some of the others quit the Maria, taking the dead sailor's chart with them. Capt. Peck thought he could find the treasure anywhere, chart or no chart, and spent three weeks at Santa Catalina working the treasure. When he had reached the end of it he was cruised about the Caribbean sea in pursuit of other will-o'-the-wisps until his adventures were brought to a close for the time being by the foundering of the

TELL-TALE FACES.

PINCHED AND CAREWORN,
As Worn by Many American Women.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)
The "tell-tale face" is worn by many American women, and is a symptom of symptoms, a signal of distress.

While women do all in their power to hide their condition, the practiced eye soon detects the trouble. When pains and aches are felt in every part of the body, when faintness, dizziness, and that bearing-down feeling prevail, when loss of sleep and appetite are reducing flesh daily, when the society of friends is irksome, and the hopeless "blue" predominates, then the face is pinched, haggard, and careworn, and prompt relief is necessary, or a beautiful life will be sacrificed.

An American woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, a student of women and their diseases, twenty years ago succeeded in producing an absolute cure for all diseases of women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands to-day as it did then, preeminent as the best means of influencing many suffering women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and become well like herself. Mrs. Wampler feels, and rightly, too, that in this way she is doing a great good.

Maria. So far as is known, the thirty-six kegs of Spanish doubloons have not been removed yet from Santa Catalina. Anybody wishing to continue the search can doubtless make an arrangement with Mr. Davidson to advance money for an expedition, although the sole right to hunt for treasure on Santa Catalina is now claimed by a company holding a concession from Honduras.

The San Francisco Chronicle the other day which told about a rumor at Panama that some had found $1,000,000 in gold and silver upon Cocos Island. This island is the scene of the legend of pirates of this century by the legend of the hidden treasure. It is in the Pacific, stocked with goats, and generally uninhabited other than some exact details are given of its treasure. There are its tons of silver doubloons, its kegs of gold bricks, its gold bricks, not the kind sold to country people, but the kind collected by the pirates, and which they really found anything, have reason to be surprised at their own moderation. The accounts of now the treasure got to the island are mixed. One story says it was the work of a pirate, "Dampier" did it. Poor Dampier! he was unlucky in his life, but he helped occasionally in an attack upon a Spanish ship, and died a poor man. A second account ascribes it to the pirate brig "Relampago," in 1822. This brig was captured by the United States navy and not a British cruiser. It was the destruction of the Relampago after the burial of the treasure and the survival of only one sailor. A third account ascribes the credit of the treasure to a privateer named slave ship named "The Shark" by Charles Henderson, of Wexford, Ohio, who was captured by the United States navy. Had his knowledge of history been greater he would probably have fixed the earlier in the century. His story includes the usual combat with a man-of-war, and this time it is a ship of the United States navy and not a British cruiser. In the story the ship was captured by a rock and sunk, and only eight men escaped. The treasure was buried on an island, supposed to be Cocos. While the island all the survivors except him, he had been trying to get the money to escape the island. He had before he died he would confide the secret of the treasure to a man who had befriended him, and thus the treasure was hidden. The points about this narrative to be noted are: First, the inevitable fight of the pirate schooner with a man-of-war, a Peruvian man-of-war and all the crew but two were shot. The survivors were a father and a son, and a young man, who had been captured by the United States navy. The father was an American whaler. For three years they cruised the Pacific. Then they went to England and secured a vessel, the Edgecomb, Capt. Boag, and went to Cocos Island and got some of the treasure. Returning they were shipwrecked near Panama, and Capt. Boag was eaten by a shark. Then Thompson died leaving his father a fortune. My father, who reached Newfoundland with $7500 in gold, met Newfoundland built a vessel, the Gauntlet, and he sailed again for Cocos Island. Putting in at Panama, he was recruited by the authorities and arrested, and he would have been executed but for the intervention of the British consul. Then he gave up and returned home. In his death he gave my husband a chart and directions for finding the place of burial of the gold. My young son, who was a convict, and he tarred not dig. Mrs. E. W. Knight, a wealthy resident of Brooklyn, bought charts and papers from the widow of Mr. Keating, but we have the only correct ones.

Impossible about the Morgan legend, though it is obvious that there could be no real knowledge of the hiding place, and that the tradition pointing to Santa Catalina is mere imagination. There is even more probability about the other legends. Piracy did flourish at the beginning of the century along the coasts of Central and South America. When the Spanish provinces won their independence the republicans plundered the royal treasuries and the churches, and the convents in which huge stores of precious metals and jewels had been accumulating for centuries. The spoils were enormous value. That notable adventurer, Lord Dunsford, better known as Admiral Cochrane, relates with a shade of envy, that Gen. San Martin, the Chilean hero, ballasted a good sized yacht at Valparaiso with one of stolen silver. In the subsequent civil war in Chili and Peru more sacking and looting occurred. The total value of the bullion obtained in this way is estimated at millions of dollars. It is conceivable, though not probable, that a portion of the booty may have come into the possession of ignorant men who could not devise any better means of disposing of it than burying them from recovering it. But so far as probabilities go, it is easier to believe that a fiction originated, say at Panama, concerning some island, and that sailors of all nations spread it, with a shade of envy, that Gen. It is conceivable, though not probable, that a portion of the booty may have come into the possession of ignorant men who could not devise any better means of disposing of it than burying them from recovering it. But so far as probabilities go, it is easier to believe that a fiction originated, say at Panama, concerning some island, and that sailors of all nations spread it, with a shade of envy, that Gen. San Martin, the Chilean hero, ballasted a good sized yacht at Valparaiso with one of stolen silver. In the subsequent civil war in Chili and Peru more sacking and looting occurred. The total value of the bullion obtained in this way is estimated at millions of dollars.
